By Associated Press.

The gravity of the international situation was recognized in all European capitals today.

Grand Duke Ernst of Hesse, brother of Empress Elizabeth of Russia, was sent by Emperor William to St. Petersburg today in a last endeavor to arrange peace. A note addressed by the German government to St. Petersburg this morning gives Russia 24 hours to explain her intention with regard to mobilization.

Reserve officers of the Guard's army corps with headquarters in Berlin received orders to mobilize.

All foreign pupils at the big German schools are ordered out of Germany.

Premier Asquith and Sir Edward Gray called on all parties in the British Isles to join in an effort to avert the immeasurable calamity of an extension of hostilities to other countries.

The German Emperor conferred at length with the Imperial Chancellor and the Ministers of War and Marine and later reserve officers received orders to mobilize.

Russia proceeded with her mobilization of a large number of troops.

President Poincare and the French cabinet decided to meet daily. The French defensive forces took extensive precautionary measures.

Austrian invaders and Servian troops came into contact on Servian territory and hundreds of casualties were said to have resulted.

The whereabouts of the main British fleet is unknown since its departure yesterday from Portland under sealed orders.

The German battle squadrons are concentrated at Kiel and Wilhelmshaven.

The French fleet has taken steps to prepare for eventualities.

Japan is said to have declared its readiness to join its ally, Great Britain.

Map of Austria-Hungary and Servia

This map shows Austria, Hungary and Servia, with surrounding countries. It is in this section of Europe that the principal war action centers. Vienna is the capital of Austria, and Belgrade is the capital of Servia.

In outlying British Colonies the troops have been prepared for instant service. A German gunboat hurriedly left Cape-town today and went to sea.

The German and British fleets in the far east have been concentrated at their chief stations.

Stock markets everywhere in Europe have virtually ceased operations and the leading banking institutions have taken measures to preserve their stocks of gold.

Several sections of the British special defense force, comprising electricians, military engineers and mine layers, were called to duty on the east and south coasts to relieve the regulars in guarding bridges and railroad sidings and manning the coast defenses. The British Admiralty requested the big Welsh coal owners to retain their stocks of fuel.

Holland called out all the army reserves frontier guards, and coast guards.

All preparatory orders for a mobilization of the German army were issued. The railroad battallions have been given special orders.

In diplomatic quarters here it was stated that the note to Russia asked three questions: The object of the mobilization, whether it was directed against Austria-Hungary and whether Russia was willing to order a stoppage of the mobilization.

AUSTRIA IS USING CRUSHING FORCE

By Associated Press.

London, July 30.—(Bulletin)—The Austro-Hungarian force invading Servia totals 500,000 men, according to a news dispatch from Rome. Of these 150,000 are operating from Semlin, opposite Belgrade, the Servian capital; 100,000 from Svorink, on the River Drina, in Bosnia; 150,000 from Sarajevo, the capital of Bosnia and 100,000 from Milanovatz, on the Danube, in the eastern part of Servia.

By Associated Press.

London, July 30.—Reports from St. Petersburg say Russia, in replying to the German note, states that the mobilization of the Russian army was only partial and could not be stopped.

WHEAT AND CORN PRICES SOAR

By Associated Press.

Chicago, July 30.—Wheat jumped 7 cents a bushel in the first minutes of trading today. The December option, which closed at 91 cents last night, sold immediately today at 98 cents. September corn rose three cents a bushel.

After the sensational advance, on account of the imminence of Russia and Germany entering the Austro-Servian war, the wheat market closed almost in a state of collapse. At the close when values were down four cents a bushel.

AUSTRIANS ARE VICTORIOUS IN EARLY BATTLES

Loss on Both Sides Is Considerable, With Servia the Heaviest Loser—Belgrade Suffers Greatly From Bombardment—Austrians Repulsed at the Danube and a Big Artillery Battle Is On.

By Associated Press.

London, July 30.—A newspaper dispatch from Rome says sharp resistance is being offered to the Austrian advance from the northwest by small detachments of Servian troops left to impede their progress. The news came by way of Saloniki from Nish, Servia.

The Austro-Hungarian invaders followed the valley of the River Morava and first encountered a body of Servian troops at Semendria, on the Servian side of the Danube. The Servians held their ground until nightfall and then retired. Both Austrians and Servians sustained heavy losses, several hundred soldiers being killed in the engagements.

On the western side of Servia an Austrian column came into conflict with a Servian force at Bostitza, which put up a stubborn defense and held the fort until dark, inflicting heavy losses on the Austrians. The southern Austrian column in Bosnia remained stationary today awaiting the movement of the Montenegrin troops. The ancient fortress of Belgrade was reduced by the Austrian artillery which, however, caused only slight damage to other parts of the Servian capital.

The British legation was struck by an Austrian shell. Servian sharpshooters greatly annoyed the Austrian artillerymen during the bombardment.

Unconfirmed reports reached here from Berlin that the Servians had been defeated by the Austrians at Fotcha, in Bosnia, losing 800 men while the Austrian casualties number 200. Fotcha is on Austrian territory. Another unconfirmed report says the Austrian troops attacked the Montenegrins on Mt. Lovchen.

A telegram received by the Servian legation says the Austrians, attempting to cross the Danube twenty miles east of Belgrade, were repulsed by the Servians and that a big artillery engagement is in progress. Another message received by the Servian legation says the Servian troops successfully resisted the Austrian advance at Bosnitz, to the west of Belgrade.

All the members of the Metropolitan Police, which is a government force, have been ordered from leave and ordered to return to duty at once as they will be required to guard the government dockyards and magazines in case the regular guards should have to join their regiment.

JAPAN WILL AID BRITISH IF THE WORST COMES

St. Petersburg, July 30.—"The Official Agency" here today publishes a dispatch from Tokio quoting a newspaper there as expressing the view that in case of a general European war the participation of Japan, as the ally of Great Britain is possible.

HOPE OF MEDIATION IS ABANDONED

By Associated Press.

Rome, July 30.—Official circles here appeared today to have abandoned all hope of mediation in the European conflict. It was stated that the moment has now come for Germany to show whether she still wants war and it was argued this alone could influence for peace.

Negotiations End Between Vienna and St. Petersburg, but Hope of Restricting the War to Austria and Serbia Has Not Been Abandoned—Emperor Francis Joseph Sends Important Letter to Czar Nicholas—Russia Not Ready to Depart From the Attitude She Has Already Announced Toward Serbia.

Vienna, July 30.—After a heavy bombardment by the Danube gunboats, Belgrade was occupied by the Austrian troops.

Nish, Serbia (via Athens), July 30.—The Austrians bombarded Belgrade for several hours from three gunboats, which are at the junction of the Danube and the Sava. The fire was directed mainly at the barracks in the capital, but other public and private buildings were hit by the shots. These included the Franco-Servian and Andrevitch banks. A banker who was in the latter was wounded. The officials of both banks made protests to the German legation.

The Servians did not reply to the fire. Part of the bridge across the Sava from Belgrade to Semlin was destroyed and is now in such a condition that it can not be used. Artillery fighting is going on at Vichnitz, near Belgrade.

Seventeen Servians were captured. Eight were taken prisoners on the Sava bridge.

It is reported that the Servian customs house and barracks were destroyed by the fire from the Austrian gunboats.

LOOKS BRIGHTER TO THE ENGLISH

London, July 30.—Premier Asquith, referring to the international crisis, said in the house of commons: "The situation at this moment is one of extreme gravity, and I can only truthfully say that the British government is not ceasing its efforts to do everything in its power to circumscribe the area of the conflict."

Chancellor Lloyd George, speaking in the house of commons, said the Bank of England saw nothing in the present financial situation to make it necessary to call a meeting of bankers. The statement was accepted as reassuring to the financial world.

Baron Rothschild said in an interview that he thought the situation looked rather better. He repeated his opinion that war would be confined to Austria and Serbia.

TERRORIZE TRAVELERS

Thirty-Five Stages Held Up and Rich Booty Secured.

Gardiner, Mont., July 30.—Stage coaches of four of the largest transportation companies operating in Yellowstone park were held up by two men. The 165 passengers on the stages were robbed of their money and it is reported the robbers obtained a total of $3,000. The holdups occurred at different times at Spring Creek canyon, four miles from Old Faithful, a geyser, and fifty-four miles from Gardiner.

Lieutenant Colonel L. M. Brett has a large force of men pursuing the robbers, who were reported to be heading toward the Jackson Hole country in Wyoming. Only one robber participated actively in the holdups, the second man remaining behind trees as a lookout. The transportation companies offered rewards aggregating $500 for the capture of the bandits.

The highwaymen had the advantage because government regulations prevent any person except those with permits from carrying arms in the park. The bandit who did the actual work of robbing had only to cover the driver with his gun. As each of the thirty-five stage coaches reached the spot the passengers were forced to descend and place their money in a sack before one of the robbers.

M'HARG CALLS IT MASTER STROKE

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 30.—Ormsby McHarg, who did campaign work for Theodore Roosevelt in the south in the pre-convention contest in 1912, has joined his old commander in chief. McHarg had a long confab with the colonel in New York. In an interview he took a rap at William Barnes, Jr., and said that nothing could prevent Roosevelt from capturing the Republican presidential nomination in 1916. "There is a nation-wide sentiment," said McHarg, "for the amalgamation of the Republican and Progressive forces. Hinman's endorsement for governor by Colonel Roosevelt was a master stroke of politics and meets with the approval of Republicans and Progressives."

DEATON MUST STAND TRIAL

Fremont, O., July 30.—Two of the three indictments against former State Senator U. S. Grant Deaton of Toledo, pending in the local courts for some time and which charge Deaton with irregularities in connection with the defunct Indiana Mining company, have been dismissed by Judge Young in the common pleas court, and a third indictment has been sustained on which Deaton must stand trial. The indictments charge that Deaton published a false report and prospectus regarding the mining company.

UNITED STATES MARINES ARE READY TO LAND IN HAITI IF PEACE IS NOT QUICKLY RESTORED

Washington, July 29.—Captain Russell of the battleship South Carolina, now at Cape Haitien, has announced that United States marines will be landed to bring about peace in Haiti if order is not restored at once. Secretary Daniels estimates that about 1,000 marines will be available for Haiti—300 at Guantanamo, 400 to go on the Hancock from Hampton Roads and 200 at San Domingo and Haiti. British and German interests are heavy Haitian creditors, and recently German demanded participation in any move by the United States to control Haitian customs.

HELD BY HAIR BRUTALLY SHOT

Columbus, July 30.—Holding her by the hair while he emptied the five shots of a thirty-eight caliber revolver into her face, James White, twenty-eight, colored, killed Bertha Taylor, twenty-one, on the street. The woman was killed almost instantly. White, who was jealous, was arrested.

Weight of a Lion.

What does a lion weigh? Those who know the look of the king of beasts best and how small his little body really is will probably come farthest from the truth. About 300 to 350 pounds is a usual estimate, but a full grown lion will tip the scales at no less than 500 pounds. Five hundred and forty pounds is the record for an African lion. His bone is solid and heavy as ivory. The tiger runs the lion very close. A Bengal tiger killed by an English officer scaled 520 pounds. A tiger this size has, however, considerably more muscular strength than the biggest lion.

The War in Europe

The great black cloud of war has shifted from the western to the eastern hemisphere and just now Europe is menaced with the probability of a war which will involve many millions of men and surpass, in the awful havoc wrought, any conflict which history records.

Austria-Hungary has already declared war against Serbia and has rushed troops across the border.

The conflict between the two nations which have already grappled would be bloody and costly with the chance of ultimate triumph decidedly in favor of Austria-Hungary. But back of Serbia looms the gigantic figure of Russia and all the Slav people of Europe. The German Empire is openly allied with Austria-Hungary while France is bound by an alliance, offensive and defensive, with Russia. England is in the background with a jealous and hostile feeling toward the German Empire which cannot be denied.

While England has, doubtless in all sincerity, offered to do all within her power to avoid a general European conflict even to offering to act as mediator, should a general conflict come the great power of the British Empire would be cast in the balance against Austria-Hungary and Germany.

The result of the general conflict among the European powers which seems inevitable unless Austria-Hungary recedes from the position now assumed, will deprive Germany of her prestige as a war power render her ally Austria-Hungary powerless and bankrupt, if it does not mean the entire dismemberment of those two great nations.

By the delicately balanced alliances of nations the peace of Europe has been maintained for years in spite of the jealousy existing and in spite of the insatiable ambitions of the reigning monarchs.

The Slav has been pushed to the north and the far south-east of Europe and there hemmed in and prevented from making any advance in material prosperity or in civilization by the glistening guns of the allied nations of Europe.

Now after years of serfdom and throttled ambitions the Slav is given an opportunity to break the chains and overrun Europe through the ambition of Emperor Franz Joseph of Austria to re-establish the waning prestige of the house of Hapsburg, by conducting a successful war of conquest against a smaller nation of despised people.

With the soldiers of France on the west encouraged by a people still smarting under the defeat in the Franco-Prussian war and anxious to regain Alsace and Loraine and Russia on the north impatient to re-establish her prestige as a war power lost in the conflict with Japan, the position of Germany and Austria-Hungary is dangerous in the extreme.

All Europe has been an armed camp for years and every nation is on a war footing and that fact makes stronger the probability of war.

Perhaps if the nations of Europe had followed more sincerely the leadership of the Czar of Russia, head of all the Slav peoples, toward a universal peace conference and an international court of arbitration, the nations of Europe would not now be so ready to fly at each other's throats in a war to the death.

There is, of course, no immediate prospect of this nation being in any way involved in the general European war if it comes and the menacing conditions in the eastern hemisphere should be cause for every American to again congratulate himself that scores of years ago our ancestors sailed away from Europe, across the seas and founded a nation where all men could live in peace and comfort and engage in the peaceful pursuits of life unafraid of conflicts with nearby nations.

America never looked so big, so powerful, so free and such a good place to live in as it does today.

Danger of Special Education Is That Broadening Education Will Cease

By President CHARLES R. VAN HISE In Address to University of Wisconsin Graduates

I HAVE held that specialized education may be begun comparatively early, provided it be COUPLED WITH BROADENING EDUCATION. Specialized education will of necessity continue so long as you are in active life. There is DANGER THAT YOUR BROADENING EDUCATION WILL CEASE.

WHATEVER YOUR WORK, YOU WILL FIND YOURSELVES AMONG OTHERS WHO ARE EQUALLY ABLE AND ACTIVE. THERE WILL BE PURSUING YOU A GROUP OF STRENUOUS YOUTHS, STARTING LATER THAN YOURSELVES, WITH BETTER EQUIPMENT, WITH GREATER ENERGY, AND THE TIME WILL COME WHEN ONE OF THESE YOUTHS WILL PRESS YOU CLOSE AND FINALLY THRUST YOU ASIDE.

I urge upon each of you that a PART OF EVERY DAY BE RESERVED FOR THINGS OTHER THAN YOUR VOCATION; that at the same time you perform efficient service in the world you live, the life of one whose head rises above the incidents of the day.

I AM WELL AWARE THAT TO TALK OF THE ZENITH AND NADIR OF LIFE TO THOSE WHO ARE JUST ENTERING INTO ITS FULL LIGHT WILL PROBABLY BE WITHOUT AVAIL, FOR IT IS CERTAIN THAT IN EXPERIENCE SELDOM LISTENS TO THE VOICE OF EXPERIENCE. BUT IF PERCHANCE ONE AMONG YOU LIVE A RICHER LIFE BECAUSE OF THESE WORDS I SHALL BE MORE THAN REWARDED.

I wonder what my yacht would bring
The yacht will have to go
Unless I part with Spender's Pride—
My shooting place, you know.
This week I've had to sell three cars,
And that's a stunning blow.

I tried a market tip, but lost
Of thousands not a few;
A worthy charity I had
To give six hundred, too.
There's Dickie Splurge—the lucky dog—
He is in no such stew!

I might go in with Sharpe, but there's
His spendthrift, tattling cub;
Unless things change I'll have to drop
My twenty-seventh club.
How to economize without
Such skimping—there's the rub!

A poor man never can enjoy
The simplest thing—that's clear.
Fifteen-dollar lunch I find
Seems lately rather dear,
For sixty thousand dollars now
Is all I have a year!

OUR FIRST POLICEWOMAN.

"About as Terrible as a Kitten," Yet Praised by English Observers.

It was in a school at Salt Lake City, Utah, early in 1913, that I chanced upon Mrs. Wells, the first American to conceive the idea of adding women to the police force and the first woman to be so appointed. When I was told of her profession my imagination flew to the typical figure of a policeman in London, and I pictured her a strapping Amazon in uniform, baton at waist, helmet on head and on her feet the boots so familiar to us in the stage farce.

When I encountered my first policewoman I was disillusioned. I found her not an Amazon, but a slightly built active woman a little over five feet in height. Her age was between thirty-five and forty. She had a pleasant, firm voice and bright blue eyes, which seemed to me to be more than usually observant. As one newspaper described her, she was "about as formidable as a kitten."

She had come to Salt Lake City at the request of the civic authorities to tell them of her duties, as they were considering the question of appointing women to the police force there. Her work at Los Angeles, Cal., had been so widely appreciated and her superiors in office had received so many letters of inquiry regarding it from the authorities of other towns that they decided to allow her six months' leave of absence in order that she might travel and tell other municipal authorities about her work.—Lady Darwin in Nineteenth Century.

Vast Forests of Alaska.

We hear much concerning the rapid disappearance of our forests. The vast timbered area of the eastern and central portions of the United States is fast being transformed into a woodless country, becoming very thickly populated, and doubtless will never grow much timber again. In Alaska, which is one of our territories, the timber area is estimated to be somewhere near 30 per cent of the entire land, and there is considerably more than 100,000,000 acres of good woodland, with timber that is of such a value its real worth cannot be estimated. It will require years to even make any marked impression on such a vast forest.—Philadelphia North American.

TALE OF A TOWER

There It Stood, Yet It Had Never Been "Erected."

CLEVER EVASION OF THE LAW

The Curious Place Where John K. Graves Turned Out His Shot and Bullets and the Contract the Courts Declared Had Not Been Broken.

The late Senator Allison, whose home was at Dubuque, Ia., thoroughly enjoyed humor and a good story. One day when in a reminiscent mood Mr. Allison narrated the following story, based upon facts, which is worth a place among tales extraordinary:

"Along about 1860, when the west was yet quite new, a number of business men in Dubuque conceived the idea of establishing a plant for the manufacture of shot and bullets. At the time there was no factory of that sort nearer than St. Louis, and, with a lively demand for ammunition, it was figured that a shot tower would pay like a California gold mine. The tower was built, the necessary machinery was put in at large expense and production began.

"For a time business was quite satisfactory; then demand slackened, and it soon became apparent that the enterprise would never develop any Standard Oil dividends. After a time some of the stockholders became disgusted with the whole business and practically offered to give away their holdings. "Among them was John K. Graves, who afterward became a power in eastern Iowa politics. Graves quietly bought up the stock as it was offered, getting practically all of it eventually on the basis of 5 or 10 cents on the dollar. Just what Graves wanted this stock for his associates in the venture could not figure out, but they did not lose any sleep over that. They were tickled to death to get anything out of the dead enterprise. It had been losing money for some time.

"Soon after this the war broke out. Graves instantly saw his opportunity. War makes great quantities of bullets necessary, and he made preparations to supply them. He indulged in certain statements concerning his plans and purposes in the presence of persons he knew would flash the information to a St. Louis concern, and his scheme worked admirably. Inside of two weeks a man whom Graves knew to be a representative of the St. Louis shot tower company called upon him and in the course of the conversation brought up the subject of stock in the Dubuque company. After several days of dickering and bantering Graves unloaded his entire holdings of stock at over fifty cents on the dollar, realizing a small fortune.

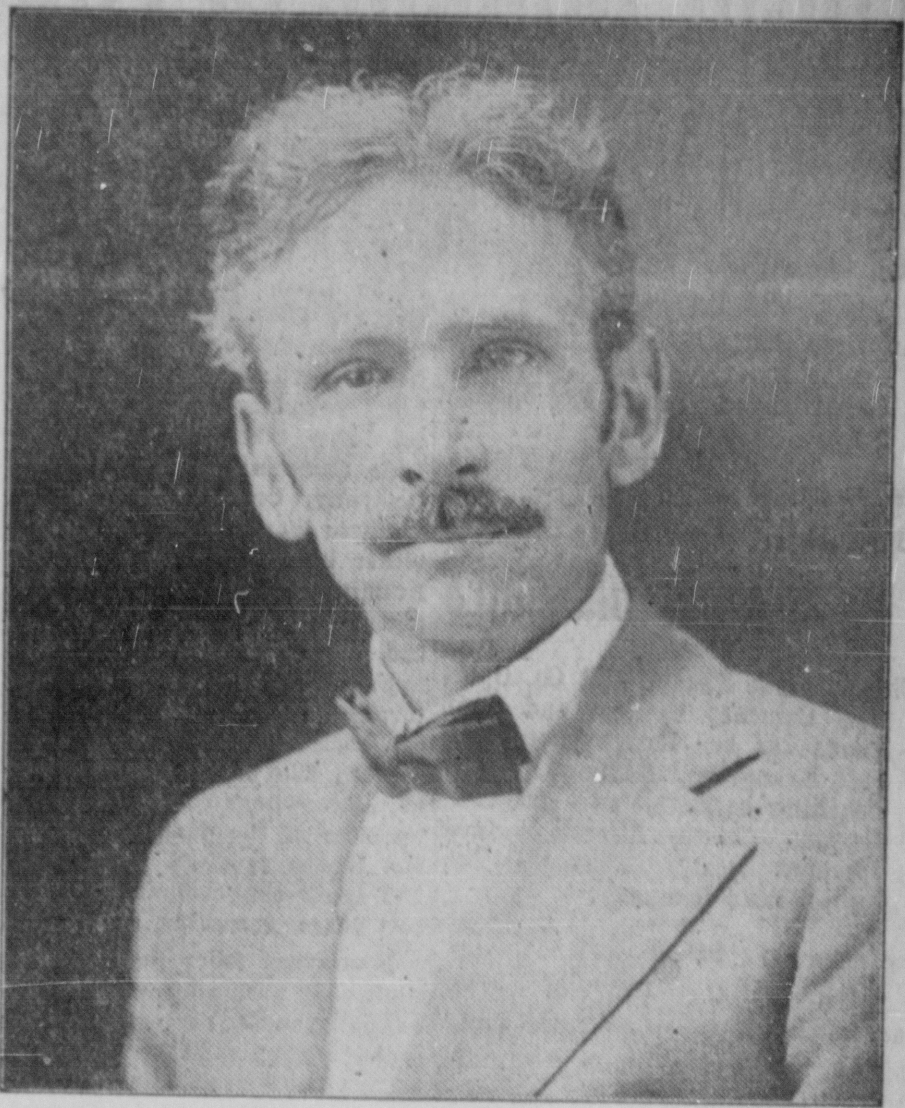

"By the terms of the agreement, however, Graves legally bound himself not to erect a shot tower within a hundred miles of Dubuque within ten years. The representative of the St. Louis concern had scarcely got beyond sight of Dubuque, down the river, until Graves sent in an order for a complete equipment of machinery for a new shot making plant. While awaiting its arrival he indulged in a little surveying.

"Dubuque is situated partly upon a lofty hill or series of hills, and the inland country is extremely rough. When wandering among the bluffs Graves came upon the excavation of a deep well. Shortly afterward there was considerable activity in that vicinity. A force of men was employed to remove the debris, and the hole was enlarged and bricked up. A lateral incision was made into the side of the bluff, striking the main vertical shaft a hundred feet from the surface opening. Here a room was dug out and bricked up and prepared for the reception of machinery. By the time this work had been completed the outfit arrived and was quickly installed. Within two or three months of the time of disposing of the stock of the Dubuque concern Graves had the new suburban underground establishment in full blast, producing bullets and shot.

"Of course news of the new factory speedily reached the St. Louis concern, and they sent an attorney to Dubuque loaded with contracts and receipts and paraphernalia for making trouble. The lawyer called on Graves and, plainly told him that if he did not shut up shop he would get the law on him quick. Graves replied that he did not understand he had violated any law or any pledge and that he would go right along making bullets, suggesting to the attorney that he start proceedings. The attorney invited Graves' attention to the bond given by the latter that he would not engage in the manufacture of shot or bullets within 100 miles of Dubuque for ten years. Graves contended that he had entered into no such covenant; he had pledged himself not to 'erect a shot tower,' and asked the attorney if he had erected a shot tower. The attorney said that was boy's talk; that such byplay would not go in a court of justice.

"The case was tried, and notwithstanding that every inch of ground was contested by the St. Louis concern, which had able counsel, Graves won. The St. Louis lawyers could not make the jury believe that Graves had 'erected' a shot tower. And so he went right on pouring melted lead into the hole in the top of the hill and gathering up shot and bullets in his brick room 100 feet below and became a wealthy man."—Frank I. Stillman in St. Louis Republic.

JESSE B. MALLOW, of Ross County

Mr. Jesse B. Mallow, of Ross county, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Senator of the Fifth-Sixth Senatorial District at the ensuing primary election, August 11th, 1914.

This district is composed of the counties of Ross, Highland, Clinton, Fayette and Greene.

For a quarter of a century the Republicans of this Senatorial district have maintained a rule of rotation by giving to each county in its turn the nomination for State Senator. Ross county has always been loyal to this rule, and IT IS NOW Ross county's nomination by the rule—and there is no more reason for breaking the rule now than in the past.

Ross county presents for this nomination one of her best qualified citizens, in the person of Jesse B. Mallow, of Frankfort, who by education and experience, understands the needs and possibilities of the agricultural and commercial interests of this district, for he is a success in business life and successful farmer.

LOCAL BRANCH OF LOAN COMPANY IS INVOLVED

Attorney General Asked to Start Ouster Proceedings Against U. S. Credit Agency Company of Springfield.

CONCERN OPERATED MANY BRANCHES

Charge Made That Credit Co. Operated Contrary to Law and That Thousands of Small Borrowers Paid Exorbitant Rates of Interest Reaching as High as 150 Per Centum. Concern Alleged to Have Operated Locally Through The Capitol Loan Company.

By Associated Press.

Columbus, O., July 30.—How thousands of borrowers from small loan agencies in a number of Ohio cities have borrowed money at higher rates of interest than allowed normally by law, after being "bonded" as security for the loan by the United States Credit Agency Company of Springfield, is told in the report of State Insurance Commissioner Robert M. Small to Attorney General Hogan today.

A raid was made on the office of the Credit Agency company two weeks ago by Commissioner Small on the suspicion that it was conducting a bonding business in Ohio without a license contrary to law. The report made today confirms this. Attorney General Hogan was asked to start ouster proceedings against the company, and criminal action against its officials. The company's business was forcibly suspended by Commissioner Small, and it has been unable to collect thousands of dollars from borrowers, most of whom are railway and laboring men with families, Mr. Small declared today.

The company operated through the following loan companies, according to the report to the attorney general: Lima Loan Company, Lima; Capitol Loan Company, Chillicothe; Capitol Loan Company, Columbus; Capitol Loan Company, Washington C. H.; Home Loan Company, East Liverpool; Home Loan Company, Massillon; Home Loan Company, Portsmouth; Union Loan Company, Steubenville;

Globe Loan Company, Sandusky; Bucyrus Loan Company, Bucyrus; Kenton Loan Company, Kenton; Capitol Loan Company, Lancaster; City Loan Company, Tiffin; Marion Chattel Loan Company, Marion; Home Loan Company, Lorain; Union Loan Company, Urichsville.

These loan companies were owned either by H. Goldberg, 66 Perin Building, Cincinnati, or M. Blumberg and William R. Teal, Terra Haute, Ind.

Frank M. Krapp, prominent attorney of Springfield, is president of the company and principal stockowner. The recent raid was made on his office where books were kept and business of the company transacted. Mr. Krapp received more than $8,000 from the company in the last two years, according to the report.

Borrowers from loan companies connected with the Credit Agency company, were compelled to sign a promissory note to the name D. D. Samelson. The chattel loan law limits interest rates to 8 per cent and 10 per cent for charges. Companies connected with the so-called bonding company charged from 80 to 150 per cent interest. Technically they did not take a chattel mortgage or wage assignment, but loaned on the Credit Agency company's bond. The bonding company took the mortgage and guaranteed payment of the loan. The bonding company charged a small fee for making the bond, according to Commissioner Small's report, and this fee later was shared with the proprietors of the string of loan agencies.

Applications for the bond were furnished at the offices of the loan companies, but the bond actually was secured at the office of an agent of the bonding company maintained in each city, usually an attorney or real estate dealer. He received 10 cents on each loan and bond made.

Commissioner Small said today he believes thousands of working men were victims of the illegal bonding company's methods, but that comparatively few will report their cases. He sent out a request that these persons write to his office.

Special Examiners J. W. Harsha and S. L. Cotter of the insurance department, made the examination on which Mr. Small's report to Attorney General Hogan is based.

were given liberal applause time after time.

The picnic came to a close late in the evening, the final attraction being a balloon ascension and parachute drop calculated to thrill the thousands who packed the grounds.

The Executive Committee, to whose untiring efforts the success of the picnic is attributed, is composed of the following men: Dr. A. L. Teeters, J. T. Timmons, Wm. Mitchell and George Kirk.

MURDERER WILLIAMS IS STILL AT LARGE

John Williams, the tenant of the J. H. Allen farm in Clinton county, who Sunday afternoon shot and killed John Spradlin, is still at large, with little hope of capturing him, as it is believed the man has returned to his former home in the mountains of Kentucky.

When last seen the man was on a motorcycle with another man, and was headed southward, apparently bent on making his escape into Kentucky before the officers could over-haul him. He had some $200 with him when he left the scene of the tragedy.

The crime is said to have been committed without apparent cause, the two men having been good friends until a few minutes before the trouble, when they quarreled over money matters, and Williams shot the man in the back as he was going into his cabin.

When the Sheriff and deputy reached the scene from this city, where they had come to witness the Washington-Wilmington ball game, they took up the trail and followed it for some distance, but could not locate their man.

Sheriff Ben South is still after the man, and will probably go into the hills of Kentucky after him.

ELIAS MARION FALLS AND FRACTURES HIP

Elias Marion, of Paint street, janitor and general employee of the local public schools, is confined to a room in the Fayette Hospital, suffering from a bad fracture of the left hip, sustained in a fall in the East End school building shortly before noon Thursday.

Mr. Marion, in company with others, was at work decorating the interior of the building when he slipped and fell some eight feet, alighting on the hard floor beneath, with the result that the left hip was fractured and he was painfully bruised about the left arm and side.

He was taken to the Fayette Hospital and his physician, Dr. Decatur, assisted by Dr. Roy Brown, dressed the injuries.

He is entitled to compensation under the State Liability act, it is claimed.

His injuries will confine him to his bed for weeks. He is 57 years of age.

Mr. Joseph Kerrigan, of Sidney, was a business visitor here Thursday.

Choral Club will have an ice cream and cake social tonight at east side of Airdome.

OIL WELL CASE DECIDED WEDNESDAY

In the injunction case of Wilbur Harper against the Herrod Creek Oil & Gas Company, the Common Pleas Court at Chillicothe decided in favor of the plaintiff.

The case has been pending a year, and the plaintiff claimed that the defendant had leased his land for drilling for oil, and that the defendants had failed to pay royalty on same, and asked that the lease be annulled.

The case grew out of efforts to reopen the oil well of the Herrod Creek Company, at Harpers' Station, it being believed that oil in paying quantities could be taken from the well, which showed a production of several barrels daily before it was shot, and better indications after it was shot.

A number of local men are interested in the Herrod Creek Company and the company was organized in this city.

KIRBY PARTS WITH HANDSOME SHINER

The attachment suit of Ben R. Dolson against D. Kirby Lerch, to recover $50 attorney fee, in which Mr. Lerch's $3,500 worth of diamonds were attached in the hands of Mayor Rowlee, was settled Tuesday evening without trial, the transaction taking place in the squire's office.

The settlement of the case involved the sale of one of his diamond studs to Mr. E. May for a consideration of $200 and out of this fund Mr.

LOW AWNINGS ARE CAUSE OF COMPLAINT

Complaint has been made to Mayor Coffey of numerous awnings in the business part of the city, which hang so low over the sidewalk that a man of good height is forced either to stoop or run the risk of the awnings knocking the hat from his head.

Women also are compelled to stoop to pass under some of the awnings.

Mayor Coffey has taken the matter under consideration, and will probably order the raising of awnings which interfere with pedestrians on the sidewalks.

Old nail holes and cracks in wood can be filled successfully with a paste made of sawdust and glue.

THOUSANDS ATTEND NEW HOLLAND PICNIC TODAY

Crowd Estimated at Nearly 8,000 Persons Throngs Kirk Grove—Sandles, Reid and Zimmerman Speak—Frankfort Ball Team Wins From Williamsport—Grounds Dotted With Attractions—Balloon Ascension Ends Most successful of Series of Picnics.

With between 5,000 and 8,000 people in attendance, making it the largest event of its kind ever given by the M. W. A. and K. of P. lodges of New Holland, the annual picnic field day and home coming was held in the George Kirk Grove one mile from New Holland Thursday.

At one o'clock the crowd was estimated at fully 5,000 and still the roads were black with strings of vehicles of all kinds, as they wormed their way to the spacious grounds, where everything was moving forward much the same as a county fair.

The grounds were liberally sprinkled with tented attractions, and refreshment stands, and included in the list of attractions was a merry-go-round and ocean wave.

A large display of agricultural implements attracted much attention and the athletic events created considerable enthusiasm.

A good ball game between Williamsport and Frankfort ended in a victory for the latter. The high jump was won by Joe Wornprech, of Williamsport.

A number of handsome colts formed the exhibit in the colt show, but at press time no awards had been made.

President of the Ohio Agricultural Commission A. P. Sandles, arrived at two o'clock and addressed the large throng on pertinent problems of the present day agricultural life.

Hon. C. A. Reid spoke for some little time, touching on the current issues of the day, politically and otherwise. Like Mr. Sandles, he was given a great ovation by the assembled thousands, and his witty remarks drew the lion's share of the applause.

Mr. John L. Zimmerman, Democratic candidate for the nomination of United States Senator, also spoke for some little time and was greeted with applause.

Several thousand enjoyed genuine picnic dinners under the grand old trees which form the beautiful grove.

A great deal of pleasure was added to the pleasant event by the best efforts of the Washington and New Holland bands, and the musicians

DALE

In Social Circles

Of more than ordinary pleasure in that it gave opportunity for the renewal of acquaintance with former friends, was an informal affair given by Mr. Taylor Veall and daughter Miss Vera, Wednesday evening, in compliment to their guests, Mrs. John Dietz, daughters, Misses Katherine and Lillie, and son Clarence, who are on a motoring trip from their home in Muskogee, Oklahoma.

About forty neighbors and friends of the days of the Dietz' former residence in this city, responded to the invitations and the evening was one of spontaneous sociability.

Miss Katherine Dietz was induced to play two violin numbers with piano accompaniment by Miss Lillie which were much appreciated and recalled the beautiful numbers of the Misses Dietz which had been frequently enjoyed when they were engaged in concert work in this city.

Sweet peas and snapdragons used effectively throughout the rooms lent attractiveness and a dainty summer collation was served.

Assisting in entertaining were Mesdames Wm. Bishop, Glen Rodgers, Will Sprenger and Miss Francis Bishop.

Miss Louise Bradford of Champaign, Ill., was an out of town guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Haines and daughter Miss Ivah, entertained with a very beautiful six o'clock dinner Wednesday night at their home on the Creek road.

The dinner was made doubly enjoyable by being served on the large verandah, overlooking the lovely grounds, with their radiant summer bloom. An immense jardiniere of golden eyed daisies, and asparagus, and wild clematis adorned the verandah, and pink and white carnations were used in the rooms.

The guests enjoying an elaborate course menu were Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Craig, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Craig and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cockerill, of Greenfield.

The suburban home of Miss Frances Maddox presented a merry scene Wednesday evening, when the members of Mr. C. W. Roller's Sunday school class of the Christian church with their husbands and a number of invited guests enjoyed a picnic feast.

The grounds were decorated with Japanese lanterns and abloom with flowers.

Everybody had a royal good time, with the picnic supper the feature of the occasion.

CLAIMS HE WILL SUE MARION FARMER

The driver in charge of the Pilot touring car, which went into the ditch immediately east of Compton Creek bridge on the New Holland pike, has declared his intention of bringing suit against a Marion township farmer whom he alleges is responsible for his car taking the ditch.

The man claims that the farmer, in a two-horse wagon, held the road. The road at the point where the mishap occurred is barely wide enough to permit the passage of two rigs, and the machine would necessarily be compelled to greatly reduce speed or run the risk of going into the ditch.

The farmer assisted the man in pulling the car from the ditch.

NEGLECT OF DUTY CHARGED IN SUIT

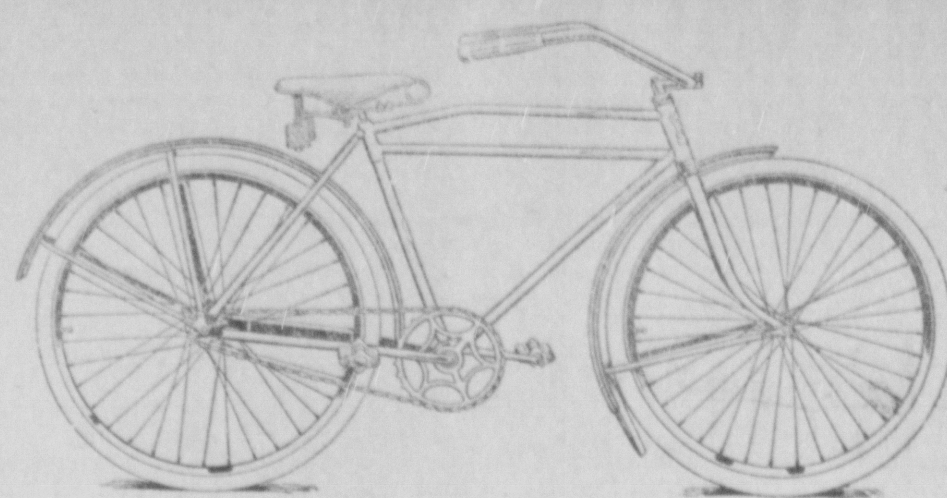

In a suit for divorce, filed in the common pleas court Thursday morning, Nell Pursell charges L. H. Pursell with gross neglect of duty covering a period of three years. Custody of their child is asked by the plaintiff, as well as other relief. Post & Reid represent the plaintiff.

The couple were married in Leesburg, January 4, 1905.

DEMONSTRATION MARKS FILING OF PETITIONS

120,000 Names on Petitions to Initiate Woman Suffrage Amendment, Filed With Secretary Graves This Afternoon—Two Women From Each County Carried Their Petitions in Enthusiastic Suffragette Parade.

By Associated Press.

Columbus, O., July 30.—Two women from each of the 88 counties in Ohio carrying between them a yellow and white basket containing petitions to initiate a woman suffrage amendment to the state constitution, composed the parade which marched once around the state capital late this afternoon, and then presented the petitions to Secretary of State Graves on the state house steps for official filing.

About 120,000 signatures, or 16,000 more than necessary, were contained on all the petitions. If Secretary Graves accepts them as valid, the question of woman suffrage will be submitted to each voter at the November election.

Although suffrage workers had not intended the parade today to reach the proportions of a demonstration, suffragists from Columbus and central Ohio turned out in large quantities to line the streets and attend the rally on the state house steps after the presentation. Most wore white dresses trimmed in yellow, and each carried a yellow rose as an emblem of suffrage for women. Three hundred women and a man from each county to carry the county banner composed the parade. Chimes of Trinity church, on the capital square, played during the march through streets bounding the capitol.

President Thompson of Ohio State University, Rep. W. B. Kilpatrick of Trumbull county, Thomas McNamara Jr., of Youngstown, an attorney, and S. J. Taber of Barnesville, lecturer for the Ohio State Grange, were on the program for addresses at the rally which followed the presentation of petitions to the secretary of state.

A banquet will end the demonstration this evening.

The parade was headed by Miss Lucille Atchison of Columbus mounted on a white horse, similar to that ridden by Miss Inez Millholland in suffrage parades in New York. A woman's chorus at the rally chanted a suffrage hymn to the tune of "America."

In the parade also were representatives of fifteen Ohio organizations of both men and women which endorse votes for women. Among these were the United Mine Workers, the Progressive and Prohibition parties, Ohio Federated Clubs of Colored Women, Ohio State Grange, Ohio Nurses and the Ohio Newspaperwomen's Association. Each carried a banner.

In the first division of the parade were women carrying banners to represent the counties where women are enfranchised: Australia, Iceland, Finland, Norway, Denmark, New Zealand and Sweden. Then came women with banners to represent the states and a territory which have woman suffrage: Illinois, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Washington, California, Oregon, Kansas, Arizona and Alaska. Others represented the states which have the suffrage question before the voters: Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, North Dakota and South Dakota, Missouri, Ohio and Oklahoma, the "campaign states" were also represented by special marchers.

MEET SATURDAY ON POST PROJECT

All persons interested in hearing about the concrete sectional end and line posts invented and about to be manufactured by Charley Burnett, are invited to attend a meeting to be held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon in the Probate Court rooms.

At that time Mr. Burnett will fully explain his patents, their strength, lasting qualities, adaptability, formation, weight, cost and method of manufacture, after which a company will be formed from those desiring to subscribe to the capital stock. A meeting for this purpose was held on July 23, but action was postponed on account of the inability of Mr. Burnett's legal representative to attend.

WHAT A BIG EUROPEAN WAR MEANS IN FAYETTE COUNTY

Higher Cost of Living Predicted Should Hungarian-Servian War Develop Into Continental Struggle—Demand for Food Stuffs From America Would be Heavy—Wild Fluctuations in Wheat Market Changes Dealers' Methods in Handling Flour.

In a local restaurant Thursday morning a local man was reading, between sips and bites, the blackened, ominous front page of a newspaper, perilously and obliquely balanced on the counter in front of him between a glass of water and a bottle of sauce. Finishing, he folded the paper, yawned and observed contentedly: "Gee, I'm glad I live on

Mrs. Frank C. Parrett left Thursday for Columbus to be the guest of her mother.

The Sugar Grove W. C. T. U. was very pleasantly entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Manuel, north of town.

Mrs. E. F. Goodwin, sister Mrs. Lionel Maynard Brown of New York were guests Wednesday of Mrs. Mark Mechin in Columbus.

Mr. Charles Allen attended the fair at Jamestown Thursday.

Mr. Harvey Harrop and family left Wednesday for a visit with relatives in Centerburg and Zanesville.

Misses Anna Kaetzel and Allie Wendel, who have been guests of J. W. Duffee and family returned Wednesday to their home in Columbus.

Mrs. Ira Day of near Austin, is at the Fayette Hospital and will undergo a serious operation this evening at the hands of Dr. J. F. Baldwin of Columbus.

Mrs. Day has been in ill health for the past two years, following serious injuries received in a runaway accident when a horse she was driving became frightened at an automobile, ran away and overturned the closed rig in which she was riding. She was severely bruised and shaken and received several deep cuts.

Mrs. Katherine Jane McDaniel and little daughters Ida and Brilliant and Mr. Alvah Dare of Huntington, W. Va., are visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Dunfee in Millwood.

this side of the pond. I am heartily sorry for the poor people in Europe in the event of war over there and it looks very much as if that thing were going to happen." He lit a big fat cigar and concluded: "We're lucky."

A half block up the street a groceryman sat at a high desk, his legs twined tightly about a high stool. The fingers of one hand were buried in a death like clutch on his forelock while the others held a pencil the end of which he chewed ravenously while he computed softly to himself: "This European war," he said. "I hate to think what's going to happen if those ducks across the pond get into it."

And here is the solution. Not in years has the wheat market been so wild. Not in decades has its prospect been so uncertain. Closing at 91 cents Wednesday Chicago wheat advanced seven more cents with the opening of the exchange Thursday morning. Its future fluctuations are impossible to predict. Corn was noted to have jumped three cents Thursday morning.

The particular grocer who was so disturbed concerning the war situation was worried about the wheat market. He knew he must buy flour but he didn't know how much to buy. The speculation was far greater than he had ever been called upon to meet. He finally decided to buy the least possible amount he could get along with. And what this grocer, a man of extensive experience, sees fit to do, the majority of others will.

The Dahl-Millikan Grocery Company, Washington's large wholesale house, is doing something it hasn't done in years. It is disposing of its flour to buyers subject to the rise or decline of the market.

Formerly, even in times when the wheat market was considered most unsafe, this company sold its flour at a certain price and the purchasers paid one price whether the market rose or fell. What this concern is doing, concerns all over the country are doing and its effect may be surmised.

"We're in for some tall figuring if there's going to be a war," said a local groceryman Thursday. "I think the wheat market will be in fragments in another week or two."

But the effect will not be confined alone to wheat, should the war become continental, as present conditions indicate. Virtually all of Europe will, for the time being, cease to become a producing land, but will be almost entirely a consuming one, and food stuffs in general will be in demand, and top prices prevail for American grain, meats and other staples. A boost in the high cost of living is imminent if the war becomes general.

W. C. T. U.
The W. C. T. U. will meet Friday at two o'clock with Mrs. Sharp-Davies on Columbus avenue. Subject for the meeting "Suffrage." Mrs. Frank Kennedy, leader. Mrs. Alice Taggart, county president will be present. Everyone interested in equal suffrage is invited.

The extreme cool weather of the past 48 hours has been welcomed by local citizens, who have been suffering with the intense heat of the summer, and the expression: "what a great night to sleep," has been a common one among those who have been sweltering under midnight heat that was unbearable.

Wednesday morning the mercury hung around 55 degrees, at 5:00 a. m. and jumped up to 82 degrees Wednesday afternoon. However, it again started on its downward course and by midnight had reached 60 degrees, and at 5:00 Thursday morning had touched 54 degrees.

GERMANS DESIRE WAR, SAY FRENCH

Optimism Not Noticeable In Official Circles In Paris.

GENERAL UPEHAVAL EXPECTED

France Reported to Have Completed an Unofficial Mobilization of Her Forces—War Munitions and Supplies Being Rushed to the Necessary Points—Nation Prepared to Resist a Sudden Attack.

Paris, July 30.—Popular sentiment in regard to a general war is more optimistic. It is very questionable, however, if there are good grounds for the improved feeling, which is not noticeable in governmental circles. The Temps too does not share in this feeling. It says that it is certain now that hereafter Germany will make no effort to restrain her ally, and as Berlin must be aware of possible consequences of Austria's declaration of war, it is evident that the German government does not fear war, but desires it. Wilhelmstrasse, says the Temps, appears to believe that the hour has come for that preventive of war which was advocated by the Cologne Gazette a few months ago. This was that there are many ways of crushing Serbia without occupying her territory. Austria, it was argued, might demand that the Serbian army be reduced to almost nothing or she might extort a crushing war indemnity from Serbia.

The Figaro says it learns from unquestionable authority that the Russian minister of war informed Count

Von Puthaus, the German ambassador at St. Petersburg, on Friday of the intended mobilization along the Austrian frontier, adding that more army corps would mobilize along the German frontier, not as a menace, but as a frank measure of testifying to Russia's firm intentions. France, the Figaro says, calculates that such a step will make it necessary for Germany to place six of her twenty-three army corps along the Russian frontier, leaving seventeen to France's nineteen army corps in their present stations.

Although the reservists have not been called out, France has completed an unofficial mobilization of her forces, although no details are allowed to be made public. In the last three days fifty-seven trains have been rushed with war munitions and supplies to the necessary points. The Eastern railroad has 300 locomotives always under steam ready for use of the military. The preparations are so complete that France is confident that she will be able to resist a sudden attack. She would also be able to take the initiative and invade Germany via Belgium. This would mean the abandonment of the set plan which involves retiring from Nancy, which is an unprotected town.

AUSTRIA DONE WITH RUSSIA

St. Petersburg, July 30.—The negotiations between Austria and Russia have ended, but although the situation is regarded with increasing gravity, hope of restricting the war to Austria and Serbia has not been abandoned entirely.

Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria has sent an important letter to the czar which may have a very important influence towards peace. The interchanges of views of the ambassadors of the triple alliance and triple entente with M. Sazonoff, the Russian foreign minister, continues. Hope for peace is now founded solely on what France and Germany may be able to accomplish. Austria's alleged refusal to continue direct negotiations with Russia, as the latter is reported to have desired, is interpreted in some quarters to mean that Austria has put herself in the hands of her allies, so far as her relations with Russia are concerned.

Russia, in the meantime, will not depart from the attitude she has already announced towards Serbia. There is an absence among the officials of all signs of flurry and anxiety, thereby giving the impression of conscious strength and preparedness to accept with equanimity whatever may be the developments.

Should Emperor Nicholas become generalissimo of the forces, as it is understood he will, an immense wave of enthusiasm will sweep over Russia. The political parties have sunk their differences. The general attitude is not jingoistic, but one of resolute confidence in the justice of the country's cause and readiness to make all sacrifices.

A proposal attributed to Austria, to discuss terms when Belgrade has been occupied, is regarded as impossible. It is pointed out that before opening of hostilities Russia proposed to Austria a direct exchange of views, which Austria rejected.

French troops are being concentrated gradually toward the German frontier, and preparations for war, although conducted quietly, nevertheless are going steadily forward.

President Poincaré returned to Paris from his Russian visit. Thousands of young men, members of the League of Patriots, met the president at the railroad station and cheered him.

A military guard has been stationed at the great Corbell flour mills, near Paris, which would be taken over by the French army if there should be war.

CALLS OUT RESERVES

St. Petersburg, July 30.—An imperial ukase issued by the emperor calls to the colors an immense number of reservists.

GERMANS PICKET RUSSIAN FRONTIER

Berlin, July 30.—Several German regiments have moved toward the Russian frontier as a precautionary measure. Official advices received here indicate military activity on the Russian side of the border, although the German military authorities are informed that no mobilization order has been issued by the Russian war office.

Anti-war demonstrations conducted by Serbs at Stuttgart resulted in such serious rioting that police were unable to cope with the situation and troops were called out. The manifestants invaded the district in which the foreign legations are situated and stoned the buildings.

1,000 KILLED IN CONFLICT

Vienna, July 30.—There is an unconfirmed report that the Servians were defeated in a battle at Foca, on the Bosnian frontier. Two Servian divisions, says the report, attacked the Austrian forces. After a severe battle the Servians were defeated with a loss of 800 killed. Many prisoners were taken. The Austrian loss was 200 killed.

PANAMA CANAL OPENS AUG. 15

Cristobal, July 30.—A test trip will be made through the canal on Aug. 2, and the great waterway will be opened to navigation on Aug. 15. The thirty foot draught ship Ancon will make the first complete trip. Secretary of War Garrison has been invited to be present.

Governor Goethals of the canal zone says that the canal will be opened to the traffic of the world on Aug. 15. No changes will be made in the organization of the staff. The operation and construction work on the canal will proceed at the same time.

BAKER HOLDS THE BOYS OFF

Cleveland, July 30.—John L. Zimmerman and Attorney General Hogan, candidates for the Democratic United States senatorial nomination, called on Mayor Baker. The latter refused to say who he will endorse.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

THE EXPRESS IS IN THIS TOWN AND IN TO STAY

FOR seventy-five years—three-quarters of a century—the express has been the right hand of the shippers of Commercial America. The Express came to Washington C. H. in 1854, and it came to stay. For 60 years it has been the right hand of Commercial Washington. It is here to stay.

The other day, when reports went out that the express companies might retire from business, a protest went up. From whom this protest—the Express companies? No! The merchants of the country—shippers everywhere—petitioned Congress that no action be taken that might have the effect of forcing the express companies to retire. Commercial organizations all over the land have joined in this appeal to Washington

For seventy-five years in the past and for a good many more years in the future, express service will mean

HUERTA WILL LIVE IN SPAIN

Kingston, Jamaica, July 30.—General Huerta, ex-provisional president of Mexico, chartered the United Fruit company's steamship Patia, of 3,200 tons, to take himself and family and the other members of the party which accompanied him here from Puerto Mexico to Santander, Spain. The Patia will sail from here Sunday morning. General Huerta has deposited $200,000 in a bank at this place.

MILLION DOLLAR CONCERN SEIZED

Columbus, July 30.—Internal Revenue Collector Williamson seized the plant of the Capital City Dairy company, a million dollar concern. The seizure was made on instructions received here from Washington, and was the result of an investigation by federal agents covering a period of several days.

FLINGING THE CHAKRI.

One of the Dexteros Feats of the Cléver Hindus of Gwalior.

There is a curious custom in Gwalior, India, the seat of Jain and early Hindu antiquities. In front of the mausoleum of a holy saint—Mohammed Ghous—a fair is held annually on the outskirts of Gwalior town about the middle of the rainy season. The most noticeable feature of the fair is the chakri throw.

A chakri is a piece of iron something like a spindle, over which a long piece of string or thread is rolled. The player throws high into the air the iron chakri (literally a roll, holding one end of the string in his hand, and gives it a swing and jerk in such a clever manner that the chakri on coming down rolls up the thread again on itself and is caught in the hands of the thrower. The art has been dexterously practiced by a class of people for ages past, and some members are so renowned that they cut a good figure at the scene. It is most interesting to watch the thrower fling the chakri up high, catch it in his hands on return and continue sending it up again and again till the rope becomes as high as seventy feet above the ground. There is absolutely no spring or lever attachment in the chakri. Nabbo is the champion thrower. — London Strand Magazine.

Press Red Tape In China.

New regulations for the control of the press have been issued by the Chinese government. Editors and publishers are required to submit a record of their past to the police before they can obtain permission to publish. This rule in effect gives power to the police to refuse a license to any one who has been connected with political propaganda. Publishers in Peking must deposit with the police $150 for a daily newspaper, $125 for a weekly, $75 for a monthly and $50 for an annual, and the rates are doubled for publications outside Peking. No person under thirty can be the editor, publisher or printer of a newspaper, and no person having a nervous disease can be an editor.

Largest Underground Waterworks.

The city of Prague and the closely attached suburban municipalities of Karlín, Smichov, Weinberge and Zizkov, with a total population of about 500,000, have just completed one of the world's largest underground waterworks systems at a cost of $5,000,000. The water is supplied by 575 small and by seven large artesian wells. These wells are fifteen miles from the city of Prague. As the water is pumped out of them it runs by gravitation through pipes into a reservoir. Enlargement is possible by the location on the same strip of land of more wells.

PRESIDENT REASSURES

Will Not Oppose Loyal Democrats Seeking Re-election.

Washington, July 30.—President Wilson has decided not to interpose any obstacles to the renomination and re-election of Democratic members of congress who have supported the policies of the party, no matter what their local and state affiliations may be.

This policy, which is to be applied generally during the coming campaign, was made known by the president during his conference with Representative Fitzgerald and other Democratic members of the house from New York city, who called at the White House to complain that some of the federal appointees in their state have been claiming they had the support of the administration in fighting them.

The president made it clear that while his attitude did not necessarily mean that he would accept the endorsements of particular members of congress for federal positions, the men whom he does appoint will not be allowed to fight loyal Democrats with the influence of the administration.

The members of the delegation left the White House somewhat disappointed because they had not been promised any appointments, but pleased over Mr. Wilson's attitude regarding their candidacies for re-election.

Found a New Kind of Whale.

A new kind of whalebone whale has recently been discovered in the south Atlantic. It is nearly as large as the finback, the more familiar whale of those waters. But instead of subsisting on minute crustaceans it feeds on small schooling fishes, such as young herring and mackerel. The frayed ends of its baleen, or whalebone, are not curled into a woolly fringe, like those of the finback, which needs a fringe in order to entrap its minute food, but are straight and comblike. The new species has quite as much commercial value as its better known relative.

Calling the Roll In Congress.

There are 435 members in the national house of representatives. It takes forty-five minutes to call the roll. In order to avoid the tedious delay, an electric voting device will probably be installed before the next session begins in December. It is estimated that it will cost $20,000 to establish the system.

WILSON DEFENDS ANTI-TRUST BILLS

Business Men Government Is Not Running Amuck.

SEKS TO END ERA OF DISTRUST

enters into Detailed Discussion of His Program and Promises to Lay His Callers' Suggestions Before the Proper Congressional Committees. Uncertainty Halts Prosperity, Says Detroit Manufacturer.

Washington, July 30. — Defending the administration's anti-trust program, President Wilson told a large delegation of business men, representing large wholesale organizations, that he is seeking to end an era of "suspicion and recrimination by putting into law what the moral judgment of the community has said ought to be done." He assured them that the government is not "running amuck."

MARRIAGE SEEMS TO AGREE WITH JIMMY VIOX, PIRATE SHORTSTOP

When Connie Mack lost the pennant in 1912 he blamed it on the fact that so many of his players had married recently and were thinking more about their spouses than baseball. This is not the case of Jimmy Viox, however, for the Pirates' scrappy little infielder took a trip upon the sea of matrimony not long ago, and since that time no one has been able to stop him. He is the batting and fielding sensation of the team at present and shows no signs of letting up.

SAWING GRANITE ROCKS.

Steel Wires and Sand and Water Are the Apparatus Used.

Stone is still sawed by hand, even in great cities, where the latest appliances of the mechanical art are to be found. Yet the mechanical sawing of rock is at least sixteen centuries old and in recent years has reached a stage of perfection.

The idea of using a metal cord and a mixture of sand and water for sawing stone was patented by Eugene Chevallier in France in 1854. His apparatus, with scarcely any change, was used not long ago in cutting a trench through the Pont Neuf, in Paris.

The principle upon which the mechanical stone saw works is described by Victor Raynaud in La Science et la Vie as follows:

An endless rope composed of three steel wires twisted together is set in movement and draws with it a grinding granular substance, pressing this hard upon the stone that is to be

It is now a recognized fact that the best grades of shoe repairing can only be done through the means of machinery. The old time cobbler filled a bill and he was the pioneer in the shoe repairing business. The old time cobbler was all right in his day, but his day is past, and he is now in the way. Cobblers were never shoemakers, that is if we use the term shoemaker in these days. From a professional point of view cobblers are cobblers, and nothing else.

Duffee has the modern machinery and knows how to finish the shoes after the machines. Men's sewed soles and heels $1.00; ladies sewed soles and heels 75c; rubber heels 25c. Get your rubber soled shoes resoled with leather or rubber. I make them better than they were when they were new. Court street, first door below Adams Express office.

saved. The mordant substance is grinded with water. The stream of water renders the movement easy and prevents the heating of the cable. The ends of the cable are joined by splicing.

The hardest rocks, such as porphyry are now sawed more easily than the softer, such as marble, but not so rapidly. Marble is sawed at the rate of nearly nine inches an hour, granite at from six to seven inches an hour.

I understand you were crippled in Wall street?"

"Quite the contrary," replied the man who jokes about serious matters. "When I went into Wall street I had a hunch. I got rid of it"—Washington Star.

Stones and Glass Houses.

The origin of the saying "Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones" is as follows: At the time of the union of England and Scotland London was inundated with Scotchmen, and the London roughs used to go about at night breaking their windows. Buckingham being considered the chief instigator of the mischief, a party of Scotchmen smashed the windows of the duke's mansion, known as the Glass House. The court favorite appealed to the king, who replied, "Steenie, Steenie, those who live in glass houses should be careful how they throw stones!"

AUSTRIANS ADVANCE---BATTLE ON

By Associated Press.

Nish, Serbia, July 30.—The invading Austrian troops advanced today some twenty miles to the southward of Belgrade and an artillery duel was in progress this morning.

MAINTAIN EFFORTS TO PREVENT GENERAL WAR

By Associated Press.

Berlin, July 30.—At the German War Office it was stated today that efforts toward the maintenance of peace were still in progress and that Germany had not yet ordered the mobilization of her forces.

Instructions were sent today by the German War Department, however, to all officers and soldiers of the reserve to be ready to join the colors. Representative officials at the Foreign Office declared the situation had grown worse today instead of better. They pointed out that the mobilization of the Russian army could mean only that Russia would support Serbia.

It was added that France also was known to be making secret military preparations.

FRENCH HOARDING MONEY---DENY MOBILIZATION

By Associated Press.

Paris, July 30.—Every military preparation short of mobilization has now been made in France. The principal railway stations and all the signal boxes and switches are today guarded by troops. Wild rumors were in circulation today that President Poincaré had decided to call up 800,000 of the French army reserves. Official denial of this was made. Crowds outside the savings banks today were three times as numerous as yesterday. Private hoarding has almost removed minted coin from circulation.

MARTIAL LAW AT BOLDERA---MINES PLANTED

By Associated Press.

Riga, Russia, July 30.—Martial law was proclaimed today over Boldera and the mouth of the Drina River and its vicinity. Steamers have to obtain special permission to pass in and out. The field of submarine mines outside the entrance to the harbor is to be completed tonight.

BIG DROP IN COTTON

By Associated Press.

New Orleans, July 30.—As a result of pessimistic cablegrams today from large market centers of Europe, and vague rumors to the effect that big English concerns were cabling this side not to risk further shipments of various commodities, cotton declined two dollars and a half a bale during the late afternoon.

HEAVY SALES IN NEW YORK

BRITISH EXPECT GERMAN ATTACK

Hankow, China, July 30.—Two British gunboats of the British-China squadron were despatched by order of the Admiral today. It is understood that the British Admiralty is also dismantling all the British gunboats in Chinese waters, sending their crews to Hong Kong and Wei Hei Wei in order to defend these important possessions against a possible German attack.

PRESIDENT MAY SPEAK IN OHIO

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 30.—President Wilson was today asked to include Ohio in any speaking tour he makes during the fall campaign. He told Representative Gordon he had made no definite plans but if he went West he would try to stop in Ohio.

ASK CARRANZA TO CEASE WAR

Washington, July 30.—Efforts were made today by the United States to influence General Carranza to bring an immediate armistice in Mexico. This action followed an appeal from Provisional President Carranza to the effect that further fighting not only was "unnecessary" but "inhuman" in view of the certain success of the peace negotiations.

BIKE RIDER ON 500 MILE TOUR

Sergeant F. J. Smith, of Co. B., 5th Regiment Ohio Infantry of Elyria who is making a bicycle tour reached this city at three o'clock Thursday afternoon, stopping a few minutes before starting onward toward Wilmington, where he will spend the night. Wednesday night he spent in Lancaster. He left Elyria Tuesday morning, making 100 miles the first day and 77 miles Wednesday. Thursday he expected to complete 71 miles. In front of the Herald office he had completed 226.8 miles of his 500 mile journey.

LOCAL MEN WILL SELL ZANESVILLE BRICK STOCK

George H. Hitchcock and W. R. Dalbey attended the banquet at Zanesville, Ohio, Thursday when four big companies were merged into one concern. They were the T. B. Townsend Brick Company, the Northern Coal Company, Monitor Coal Company and the L. K. Brown Sand Company. It is known as the Burton-Townsend Brick and Fuel Company.

There were at the banquet leading citizens of Zanesville, the mayor, city councilmen, bankers and county commissioners, in addition to forty representatives of the R. L. Dollings Company, the well known bonding house, Hamilton, Ohio, which is represented in Fayette county by Hitchcock and Dalbey. In speaking of the Zanesville banquet they said today:

"The newly merged Zanesville company owns 2300 acres of coal lands, 324 acres of shale, fire clay and molders' sand in addition to the valuable equipment of the company. It is estimated that the deposits of the company are worth $30,000,000 in addition to the land located in Zanesville city which will later be leveled and sold at high prices for building purposes, and the capital stock of the merged company is only $2,000,000.

"It is claimed that the tests show that for paving purposes the Burton-Townsend brick is unsurpassed, being of superior quality, standing the severest tests of hard and long usage. As the company has such immense deposits of shale and coal it can manufacture its brick at minimum cost. The immense shale banks where the brick yards are located are right in the city of Zanesville, with paved streets on two sides of the property.

"The Burton-Townsend Company has control of the most valuable and extensive shale deposits of that section, and as millions upon millions are now to be spent by the National government and the state of Ohio and other states for brick road paving, to say nothing of the immense amount of paving that is being done in the cities and towns of the country, the stock of this powerful new company looks like a splendid buy according to those who have made investigation.

"The high character of the Burton-Townsend people and the history of their past successes in brick making are features which attracted the attention of those who attended the banquet and looked through the great plants. They are leaders in the business and social life of Zanesville.

"Hitchcock and Dalbey will in a few days offer for sale in Fayette county stock of the Burton-Townsend Brick Company, of Zanesville, and persons looking for a gilt-edge investment should investigate. It is 7 per cent preferred participating and accumulative stock, and for the present will be offered at par in shares of $100 each.

"This stock should rise in value in the face of present conditions in the brick industry, which will continue for years to come. The company is free from debt and for years the various concerns now merged have been great money makers, as was referred to by the speakers at the banquet and the later meeting held at the chamber of commerce.

"Prospectuses setting forth detailed information, accurate illustrations etc., of the Burton-Townsend proposition may be had upon application to Hitchcock and Dalbey in the Dennis block, Washington C. H.

"The R. L. Dollings Company who have the exclusive sale of the Burton-Townsend Brick Co. stock, is a company which has passed the scrutiny of the Ohio State Banking Department. They deal in municipal bonds and high-class industrial securities, and they have the reputation of being right with the people who have been doing business with them in the past."

WHEAT FLURRY HAS LITTLE EFFECT HERE

Regardless of the sensational jumps made in the price of November and December wheat, as a result of the European war scare, the price in this city and other similar points remains practically unchanged, and the local elevators are now paying 77 cents per bushel.

All over the country the buyers and sellers are remaining quiet while the wild speculation is on in the Chicago wheat pit.

By Associated Press.

The gravity of the international situation was recognized in all European capitals today.

Grand Duke Ernst of Hesse, brother of Empress Elizabeth of Russia, was sent by Emperor William to St. Petersburg today in a last endeavor to arrange peace. A note addressed by the German government to St. Petersburg this morning gives Russia 24 hours to explain her intention with regard to mobilization.

Reserve officers of the Guard's army corps with headquarters in Berlin received orders to mobilize.

All foreign pupils at the big German schools are ordered out of Germany.

Premier Asquith and Sir Edward Gray called on all parties in the British Isles to join in an effort to avert the immeasurable calamity of an extension of hostilities to other countries.

The German Emperor conferred at length with the Imperial Chancellor and the Ministers of War and Marine and later reserve officers received orders to mobilize.

Russia proceeded with her mobilization of a large number of troops.

President Poincare and the French cabinet decided to meet daily. The French defensive forces took extensive precautionary measures.

Austrian invaders and Servian troops came into contact on Servian territory and hundreds of casualties were said to have resulted.

The whereabouts of the main British fleet is unknown since its departure yesterday from Portland under sealed orders.

The German battle squadrons are concentrated at Kiel and Wilhelmshaven.

The French fleet has taken steps to prepare for eventualities.

Japan is said to have declared its readiness to join its ally, Great Britain.

Map of Austria-Hungary and Servia

This map shows Austria-Hungary and Servia, with surrounding countries. It is in this section of Europe that the principal war action centers. Vienna is the capital of Austria, and Belgrade is the capital of Servia.

In outlying British Colonies the troops have been prepared for instant service. A German gunboat hurriedly left Cape-town today and went to sea.

The German and British fleets in the far east have been concentrated at their chief stations.

Stock markets everywhere in Europe have virtually ceased operations and the leading banking institutions have taken measures to preserve their stocks of gold.

Several sections of the British special defense force, comprising electricians, military engineers and mine layers, were called to duty on the east and south coasts to relieve the regulars in guarding bridges and railroad sidings and manning the coast defenses. The British Admiralty requested the big Welsh coal owners to retain their stocks of fuel.

Holland called out all the army reserves frontier guards, and coast guards.

All preparatory orders for a mobilization of the German army were issued. The railroad battalions have been given special orders.

In diplomatic quarters here it was stated that the note to Russia asked three questions: The object of the mobilization, whether it was directed against Austria-Hungary and whether Russia was willing to order a stoppage of the mobilization.

AUSTRIA IS USING CRUSHING FORCE

By Associated Press.

London, July 30.—(Bulletin)—The Austro-Hungarian force invading Servia totals 500,000 men, according to a news dispatch from Rome. Of these 150,000 are operating from Semlin, opposite Belgrade, the Servian capital; 100,000 from Svirink, on the River Drina, in Bosnia; 150,000 from Sarajevo, the capital of Bosnia and 100,000 from Milanovatz, on the Danube, in the eastern part of Servia.

RUSSIA ANSWERS GERMANY FORTHWITH

By Associated Press.

London, July 30.—Reports from St. Petersburg say Russia, in replying to the German note, states that the mobilization of the Russian army was only partial and could not be stopped.

WHEAT AND CORN PRICES SOAR

By Associated Press.

Chicago, July 30.—Wheat jumped 7 cents a bushel in the first minutes of trading today. The December option, which closed at 91 cents last night, sold immediately today at 98 cents. September corn rose three cents a bushel.

After the sensational advance, on account of the imminence of Russia and Germany entering the Austro-Servian war, the wheat market closed almost in a state of collapse. At the close when values were down four cents a bushel.

AUSTRIANS ARE VICTORIOUS IN EARLY BATTLES

Loss on Both Sides Is Considerable, With Servia the Heaviest Loser—Belgrade Suffers Greatly From Bombardment—Austrians Repulsed at the Danube and a Big Artillery Battle Is On.

By Associated Press.

London, July 30.—A newspaper dispatch from Rome says sharp resistance is being offered to the Austrian advance from the northwest by small detachments of Servian troops left to impede their progress. The news came by way of Saloniki from Nish, Servia.

The Austro-Hungarian invaders followed the valley of the River Morava and first encountered a body of Servian troops at Semendria, on the Servian side of the Danube. The Servians held their ground until nightfall and then retired. Both Austrians and Servians sustained heavy losses, several hundred soldiers being killed in the engagements.

On the western side of Servia an Austrian column came into conflict with a Servian force at Bostitza, which put up a stubborn defense and held the fort until dark, inflicting heavy losses on the Austrians. The southern Austrian column in Bosnia remained stationary today awaiting the movement of the Montenegrin troops. The ancient fortress of Belgrade was reduced by the Austrian artillery which, however, caused only slight damage to other parts of the Servian capital.

The British legation was struck by an Austrian shell. Servian sharpshooters greatly annoyed the Austrian artillerymen during the bombardment.

Unconfirmed reports reached here from Berlin that the Servians had been defeated by the Austrians at Fotcha, in Bosnia, losing 800 men while the Austrian casualties number 200. Fotcha is on Austrian territory. Another unconfirmed report says the Austrian troops attacked the Montenegrins on Mt. Lovchen.

A telegram received by the Servian legation says the Austrians, attempting to cross the Danube twenty miles east of Belgrade, were repulsed by the Servians and that a big artillery engagement is in progress. Another message received by the Servian legation says the Servian troops successfully resisted the Austrian advance at Bosnitz, to the west of Belgrade.

All the members of the Metropolitan Police, which is a government force, have been ordered from leave and ordered to return to duty at once as they will be required to guard the government dockyards and magazines in case the regular guards should have to join their regiment.

JAPAN WILL AID BRITISH IF THE WORST COMES

HOPE OF MEDIATION IS ABANDONED

By Associated Press.

Rome, July 30.—Official circles here appeared today to have abandoned all hope of mediation in the European conflict. It was stated that the moment has no come for Germany to show whether she still wants war and it was argued this alone could influence for peace.

Negotiations End Between Vienna and St. Petersburg, but Hope of Restricting the War to Austria and Servia Has Not Been Abandoned—Emperor Francis Joseph Sends Important Letter to Czar Nicholas—Russia Not Ready to Depart From the Attitude She Has Already Announced Toward Servia.

Vienna, July 30.—After a heavy bombardment by the Danube gunboats, Belgrade was occupied by the Austrian troops.

Nish, Servia (via Athens), July 30.—The Austrians bombarded Belgrade for several hours from three gunboats, which are at the junction of the Danube and the Sava. The fire was directed mainly at the barracks in the capital, but other public and private buildings were hit by the shots. These included the Franco-Servian and Andrejitch banks. A banker who was in the latter was wounded. The officials of both banks made protests to the German legation.

The Servians did not reply to the fire. Part of the bridge across the Sava from Belgrade to Semlin was destroyed and is now in such a condition that it can not be used. Artillery fighting is going on at Vichnitz, near Belgrade.

Seventeen Servians were captured. Eight were taken prisoners on the Sava bridge.

It is reported that the Servian customs house and barracks were destroyed by the fire from the Austrian gunboats.

LOOKS BRIGHTER TO THE ENGLISH

London, July 30.—Premier Asquith, referring to the international crisis, said in the house of commons: "The situation at this moment is one of extreme gravity, and I can only 'truthfully say that the British government is not ceasing its efforts to do everything in its power to circumscribe the area of the conflict."

Chancellor Lloyd George, speaking in the house of commons, said the Bank of England saw nothing in the present financial situation to make it necessary to call a meeting of bankers. The statement was accepted as reassuring to the financial world.

Baron Rothschild said in an interview that he thought the situation looked rather better. He repeated his opinion that war would be confined to Austria and Servia.

TERRORIZE TRAVELERS

Thirty-Five Stages Held Up and
Rich Booty Secured.

Gardiner, Mont., July 30.—Stage coaches of four of the largest transportation companies operating in Yellowstone park were held up by two men. The 165 passengers on the stages were robbed of their money and it is reported the robbers obtained a total of $3,000. The holdups occurred at different times at Spring Creek canyon, four miles from Old Faithful, a geyser, and fifty-four miles from Gardiner.

Lieutenant Colonel L. M. Brett has a large force of men pursuing the robbers, who were reported to be heading toward the Jackson Hole country in Wyoming. Only one robber participated actively in the holdups, the second man remaining behind trees as a lookout. The transportation companies offered rewards aggregating $500 for the capture of the bandits.

The highwaymen had the advantage because government regulations prevent any person except those with permits from carrying arms in the park. The bandit who did the actual work of robbing had only to cover the driver with his gun. As each of the thirty-five stage coaches reached the spot the passengers were forced to descend and place their money in a sack before one of the robbers.

GIRL OF FOURTEEN DEMANDS DIVORCE

M'HARG CALLS IT MASTER STROKE

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 30.—Ormsby McHarg, who did campaign work for Theodore Roosevelt in the south in the pre-convention contest in 1912, has joined his old commander in chief. McHarg had a long confab with the colonel in New York. In an interview he took a rap at William Barnes, Jr., and said that nothing could prevent Roosevelt from capturing the Republican presidential nomination in 1916. "There is a nation-wide sentiment," said McHarg, "for the amalgamation of the Republican and Progressive forces. Hinman's endorsement for governor by Colonel Roosevelt was a master stroke of politics and meets with the approval of Republicans and Progressives."

DEATON MUST STAND TRIAL

Premont, O., July 30.—Two of the three indictments against former State Senator U. S. Grant Deaton of Toledo, pending in the local courts for some time and which charge Deaton with irregularities in connection with the defunct Indiana Mining company, have been dismissed by Judge Young in the common pleas court, and a third indictment has been sustained on which Deaton must stand trial. The indictments charge that Deaton published a false report and prospectus regarding the mining company.

UNITED STATES MARINES ARE READY TO LAND IN HAITI IF PEACE IS NOT QUICKLY RESTORED

Washington, July 29.—Captain Russell of the battleship South Carolina, now at Cape Haitien, has announced that United States marines will be landed to bring about peace in Haiti if order is not restored at once. Secretary Daniels estimates that about 1,000 marines will be available for Haiti—300 at Guantanamo, 400 to go on the Hancock from Hampton Roads and 200 at San Domingo and Haiti. British and German interests are heavy Haitian creditors, and recently German demanded participation in any move by the United States to control Haitian customs.

HELD BY HAIR BRUTALLY SHOT

Columbus, July 30.—Holding her by the hair while he emptied the five shots of a thirty-eight caliber revolver into her face, James White, twenty-eight, colored, killed Bertha Taylor, twenty-one, on the street. The woman was killed almost instantly. White, who was jealous, was arrested.

Weight of a Lion.

What does a lion weigh? Those who know the look of the king of beasts best and how small his little body really is will probably come farthest from the truth. About 300 to 350 pounds is a usual estimate, but a full grown lion will tip the scales at no less than 500 pounds. Five hundred and forty pounds is the record for an African lion. His bone is solid and heavy as ivory. The tiger runs the lion very close. A Bengal tiger killed by an English officer scaled 520 pounds. A tiger this size has, however, considerably more muscular strength than the biggest lion.

The young man carefully removed the cigars from his vest pocket and placed them on the piano. Then he opened his arms. But the young girl did not flutter to them. "You," she said coldly, "have loved before."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The War in Europe

The great black cloud of war has shifted from the western to the eastern hemisphere and just now Europe is menaced with the probability of a war which will involve many millions of men and surpass, in the awful havoc wrought, any conflict which history records.

Austria-Hungary has already declared war against Serbia and has rushed troops across the border.

The conflict between the two nations which have already grappled would be bloody and costly with the chance of ultimate triumph decidedly in favor of Austria-Hungary. But back of Serbia looms the gigantic figure of Russia and all the Slav people of Europe. The German Empire is openly allied with Austria-Hungary while France is bound by an alliance, offensive and defensive, with Russia. England is in the background with a jealous and hostile feeling toward the German Empire which cannot be denied.

While England has, doubtless in all sincerity, offered to do all within her power to avoid a general European conflict even to offering to act as mediator, should a general conflict come the great power of the British Empire would be cast in the balance against Austria-Hungary and Germany.

The result of the general conflict among the European powers which seems inevitable unless Austria-Hungary recedes from the position now assumed, will deprive Germany of her prestige as a war power render her ally Austria-Hungary powerless and bankrupt, if it does not mean the entire dismemberment of those two great nations.

By the delicately balanced alliances of nations the peace of Europe has been maintained for years in spite of the jealousy existing and in spite of the insatiable ambitions of the reigning monarchs.

The Slav has been pushed to the north and the far south-east of Europe and there hemmed in and prevented from making any advance in material prosperity or in civilization by the glistening guns of the allied nations of Europe.

Now after years of serfdom and throttled ambitions the Slav is given an opportunity to break the chains and overrun Europe through the ambition of Emperor Franz Joseph of Austria to re-establish the waning prestige of the house of Hapsburg, by conducting a successful war of conquest against a smaller nation of despised people.

With the soldiers of France on the west encouraged by a people still smarting under the defeat in the Franco-Prussian war and anxious to regain Alsace and Lorraine and Russia on the north impatient to re-establish her prestige as a war power lost in the conflict with Japan, the position of Germany and Austria-Hungary is dangerous in the extreme.

All Europe has been an armed camp for years and every nation is on a war footing and that fact makes stronger the probability of war.

Perhaps if the nations of Europe had followed more sincerely the leadership of the Czar of Russia, head of all the Slav peoples, toward a universal peace conference and an international court of arbitration, the nations of Europe would not now be so ready to fly at each other's throats in a war to the death.

There is, of course, no immediate prospect of this nation being in any way involved in the general European war if it comes and the menacing conditions in the eastern hemisphere should be cause for every American to again congratulate himself that scores of years ago our ancestors sailed away from Europe, across the seas and founded a nation where all men could live in peace and comfort and engage in the peaceful pursuits of life unafraid of conflicts with nearby nations.

America never looked so big, so powerful, so free and such a good place to live in as it does today.

Danger of Special Education Is That Broadening Education Will Cease

By President CHARLES R. VAN HISE In Address to University of Wisconsin Graduates

I HAVE held that specialized education may be begun comparatively early, provided it be COUPLED WITH BROADENING EDUCATION. Specialized education will of necessity continue so long as you are in active life. There is DANGER THAT YOUR BROADENING EDUCATION WILL CEASE.

WHATEVER YOUR WORK, YOU WILL FIND YOURSELVES AMONG OTHERS WHO ARE EQUALLY ABLE AND ACTIVE. THERE WILL BE PURSUING YOU A GROUP OF STRENUOUS YOUTHS, STARTING LATER THAN YOURSELVES, WITH BETTER EQUIPMENT, WITH GREATER ENERGY, AND THE TIME WILL COME WHEN ONE OF THESE YOUTHS WILL PRESS YOU CLOSE AND FINALLY THRUST YOU ASIDE.

I urge upon each of you that a PART OF EVERY DAY BE RESERVED FOR THINGS OTHER THAN YOUR VOCATION; that at the same time you perform efficient service in the world you live, the life of one whose head rises above the incidents of the day.

I AM WELL AWARE THAT TO TALK OF THE ZENITH AND NADIR OF LIFE TO THOSE WHO ARE JUST ENTERING INTO ITS FULL LIGHT WILL PROBABLY BE WITHOUT AVAIL, FOR IT IS CERTAIN THAT IN EXPERIENCE SELDOM LISTENS TO THE VOICE OF EXPERIENCE. Poetry For Today

DOWN-AND-OUT BALLAD.

I wonder what my yacht would bring
The yacht will have to go
Unless I part with Spender's Pride—
My shooting place, you know.
This week I've had to sell three cars,
And that's a stunning blow.

I tried a market tip, but lost
Of thousands not a few;
A worthy charity I had
To give six hundred, too.
There's Dickie Splurge—the lucky dog—
He is in no such stew!

I might go in with Sharpe, but there's
His spendthrift, tattling cub;
Unless things change I'll have to drop
My twenty-seventh club.
How to economize without
Such skimping—there's the rub!

A poor man never can enjoy
The simplest thing—that's clear.
Fifteen-dollar lunch I find
Seems lately rather dear.
For sixty thousand dollars now
Is all I have a year!

OUR FIRST POLICEWOMAN.

"About as Terrible as a Kitten," Yet Praised by English Observers.

It was in a school at Salt Lake City, Utah, early in 1913, that I chanced upon Mrs. Wells, the first American to conceive the idea of adding women to the police force and the first woman to be so appointed. When I was told of her profession my imagination flew to the typical figure of a policeman in London, and I pictured her strapping Amazon in uniform, baton at waist, helmet on head and on her feet the boots so familiar to us in the stage farce.

When I encountered my first policewoman I was disillusioned. I found her not an Amazon, but a slightly built active woman a little over five feet in height. Her age was between thirty-five and forty. She had a pleasant firm voice and bright blue eyes, which seemed to me to be more than usually observant. As one newspaper described her, she was "about as formidable as a kitten."

She had come to Salt Lake City at the request of the civic authorities to tell them of her duties, as they were considering the question of appointing women to the police force there. Her work at Los Angeles, Cal., had been so widely appreciated and her superiors in office had received so many letters of inquiry regarding it from the authorities of other towns that they decided to allow her six months' leave of absence in order that she might travel and tell other municipal authorities about her work.—Lady Darwin in Nineteenth Century.

Vast Forests of Alaska.

We hear much concerning the rapid disappearance of our forests. The vast timbered area of the eastern and central portions of the United States is fast being transformed into a woodless country, becoming very thickly populated, and doubtless will never grow much timber again. In Alaska, which is one of our territories, the timber area is estimated to be somewhere near 30 per cent of the entire land, and there is considerably more than 100,000,000 acres of good woodland, with timber that is of such a value its real worth cannot be estimated. It will require years to even make any marked impression on such a vast forest.—Philadelphia North American.

TALE OF A TOWER

There It Stood, Yet It Had Never Been "Erected."

CLEVER EVASION OF THE LAW

The Curious Place Where John K. Graves Turned Out His Shot and Bullets and the Contract the Courts Declared Had Not Been Broken.

The late Senator Allison, whose home was at Dubuque, Ia., thoroughly enjoyed humor and a good story. One day when in a reminiscent mood Mr. Allison narrated the following story, based upon facts, which is worth a place among tales extraordinary:
"Along about 1860, when the west was yet quite new, a number of business men in Dubuque conceived the idea of establishing a plant for the manufacture of shot and bullets. At the time there was no factory of that sort nearer than St. Louis, and, with a lively demand for ammunition, it was figured that a shot tower would pay like a California gold mine. The tower was built, the necessary machinery was put in at large expense and production began.

"For a time business was quite satisfactory; then demand slackened, and it soon became apparent that the enterprise would never develop any Standard Oil dividends. After a time some of the stockholders became disgusted with the whole business and practically offered to give away their holdings. "Among them was John K. Graves, who afterward became a power in eastern Iowa politics. Graves quietly bought up the stock as it was offered, getting practically all of it eventually on the basis of 5 or 10 cents on the dollar. Just what Graves wanted this stock for his associates in the venture could not figure out, but they did not lose any sleep over that. They were tickled to death to get anything out of the dead enterprise. It had been losing money for some time.

"Soon after this the war broke out. Graves instantly saw his opportunity. War makes great quantities of bullets necessary, and he made preparations to supply them. He indulged in certain statements concerning his plans and purposes in the presence of persons he knew would flash the information to a St. Louis concern, and his scheme worked admirably. Inside of two weeks a man whom Graves knew to be a representative of the St. Louis shot tower company called upon him and in the course of the conversation brought up the subject of stock in the Dubuque company. After several days of dickering and bantering Graves unloaded his entire holdings of stock at over fifty cents on the dollar, realizing a small fortune.

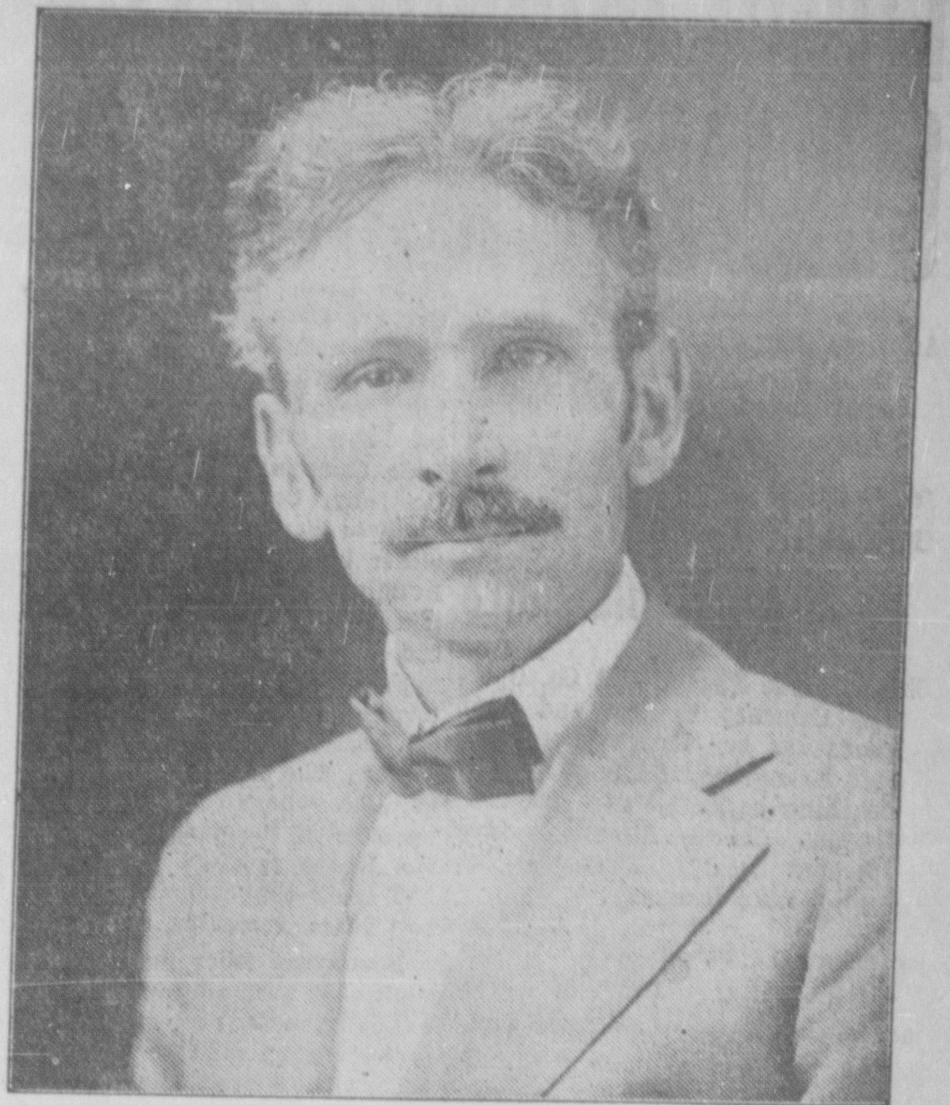

"By the terms of the agreement, however, Graves legally bound himself not to erect a shot tower within a hundred miles of Dubuque within ten years. The representative of the St. Louis concern had scarcely got beyond sight of Dubuque, down the river, until Graves sent in an order for a complete equipment of machinery for a new shot making plant. While awaiting its arrival he indulged in a little surveying.

"Dubuque is situated partly upon a lofty hill or series of hills, and the inland country is extremely rough. When wandering among the bluffs Graves came upon the excavation of a deep well. Shortly afterward there was considerable activity in that vicinity. A force of men was employed to remove the debris, and the hole was enlarged and bricked up. A lateral incision was made into the side of the bluff, striking the main vertical shaft a hundred feet from the surface opening. Here a room was dug out and bricked up and prepared for the reception of machinery. By the time this work had been completed the outfit arrived and was quickly installed. Within two or three months of the time of disposing of the stock of the Dubuque concern Graves had the new suburban underground establishment in full blast, producing bullets and shot.

"Of course news of the new factory speedily reached the St. Louis concern, and they sent an attorney to Dubuque loaded with contracts and receipts and paraphernalia for making trouble. The lawyer called on Graves and, plainly told him that if he did not shut up shop he would get the law on him quick. Graves replied that he did not understand he had violated any law or any pledge and that he would go right along making bullets, suggesting to the attorney that he start proceedings. The attorney invited Graves' attention to the bond given by the latter that he would not engage in the manufacture of shot or bullets within 100 miles of Dubuque for ten years. Graves contended that he had entered into no such covenant; he had pledged himself not to erect a shot tower, and asked the attorney if he had erected a shot tower. The attorney said that was boy's talk; that such play was not go in a court of justice.

"The case was tried, and notwithstanding that every inch of ground was contested by the St. Louis concern, which had able counsel, Graves won. The St. Louis lawyers could not make the jury believe that Graves had 'erected' a shot tower. And so he went right on pouring melted lead into the hole in the top of the hill and gathering up shot and bullets in his brick room 100 feet below and became a wealthy man."—Frank I. Stillman in St. Louis Republic.

JESSE B. MALLOW, of Ross County

Mr. Jesse B. Mallow, of Ross county, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Senator of the Fifth-Sixth Senatorial District at the ensuing primary election, August 11th, 1914.

This district is composed of the counties of Ross, Highland, Clinton, Fayette and Greene.

For a quarter of a century the Republicans of this Senatorial district have maintained a rule of rotation by giving to each county in its turn the nomination for State Senator. Ross county has always been loyal to this rule, and IT IS NOW Ross county's nomination by the rule—and there is no more reason for breaking the rule now than in the past.

Ross county presents for this nomination one of her best qualified citizens, in the person of Jesse B. Mallow, of Frankfort, who by education and experience, understands the needs and possibilities of the agricultural and commercial interests of this district, for he is a success in business life and successful farmer.

LOCAL BRANCH OF LOAN COMPANY IS INVOLVED

Attorney General Asked to Start Ouster Proceedings Against U. S. Credit Agency Company of Springfield.

CONCERN OPERATED MANY BRANCHES

Charge Made That Credit Co. Operated Contrary to Law and That Thousands of Small Borrowers Paid Exorbitant Rates of Interest Reaching as High as 150 Per Centum. Concern Alleged to Have Operated Locally Through The Capitol Loan Company.

By Associated Press.

Columbus, O., July 30.—How thousands of borrowers from small loan agencies in a number of Ohio cities have borrowed money at higher rates of interest than allowed normally by law, after being "bonded" as security for the loan by the United States Credit Agency Company of Springfield, is told in the report of State Insurance Commissioner Robert M. Small to Attorney General Hogan today.

A raid was made on the office of the Credit Agency company two weeks ago by Commissioner Small on the suspicion that it was conducting a bonding business in Ohio without a license contrary to law. The report made today confirms this. Attorney General Hogan was asked to start ouster proceedings against the company, and criminal action against its officials. The company's business was forcibly suspended by Commissioner Small, and it has been unable to collect thousands of dollars from borrowers, most of whom are railway and laboring men with families, Mr. Small declared today.

The company operated through the following loan companies, according to the report to the attorney general: Lima Loan Company, Lima; Capitol Loan Company, Chillicothe; Capitol Loan Company, Columbus; Capitol Loan Company, Washington C. H.; Home Loan Company, East Liverpool; Home Loan Company, Massillon; Home Loan Company, Portsmouth; Union Loan Company, Steubenville;

Globe Loan Company, Sandusky; Bucyrus Loan Company, Bucyrus; Kenton Loan Company, Kenton; Capitol Loan Company, Lancaster; City Loan Company, Tiffin; Marion Chattel Loan Company, Marion; Home Loan Company, Lorain; Union Loan Company, Urichsville.

These loan companies were owned either by H. Goldberg, 66 Perin Building, Cincinnati, or M. Blumberg and William R. Teal, Terra Haute, Ind.

Frank M. Krapp, prominent attorney of Springfield, is president of the company and principal stockowner. The recent raid was made on his office where books were kept and business of the company transacted. Mr. Krapp received more than $8,000 from the company in the last two years, according to the report.

Borrowers from loan companies connected with the Credit Agency company, were compelled to sign a promissory note to the name D. D. Samelson. The chattel loan law limits interest rates to 8 per cent and 10 per cent for charges. Companies connected with the so-called bonding company charged from 80 to 150 per cent interest. Technically they did not take a chattel mortgage or wage assignment, but loaned on the Credit Agency company's bond. The bonding company took the mortgage and guaranteed payment of the loan. The bonding company charged a small fee for making the bond, according to Commissioner Small's report, and this fee later was shared with the proprietors of the string of loan agencies.

Applications for the bond were furnished at the offices of the loan companies, but the bond actually was secured at the office of an agent of the bonding company maintained in each city, usually an attorney or real estate dealer. He received 10 cents on each loan and bond made.

Commissioner Small said today he believes thousands of working men were victims of the illegal bonding company's methods, but that comparatively few will report their cases. He sent out a request that these persons write to his office.

Special Examiners J. W. Harsha and S. L. Cotter of the insurance department, made the examination on which Mr. Small's report to Attorney General Hogan is based.

THOUSANDS ATTEND NEW HOLLAND PICNIC TODAY

Crowd Estimated at Nearly 8,000 Persons Throngs Kirk Grove—Sandles, Reid and Zimmerman Speak—Frankfort Ball Team Wins From Williamsport—Gounds Dotted With Attractions—Balloon Ascension Ends Most successful of Series of Picnics.

With between 5,000 and 8,000 people in attendance, making it the largest event of its kind ever given by the M. W. A. and K. of P. lodges of New Holland, the annual picnic field day and home coming was held in the George Kirk Grove one mile from New Holland Thursday.

At one o'clock the crowd was estimated at fully 5,000 and still the roads were black with strings of vehicles of all kinds, as they wormed their way to the spacious grounds, where everything was moving forward much the same as a county fair. The grounds were liberally sprinkled with tented attractions, and refreshment stands, and included in the list of attractions was a merry-go-round and ocean wave.

A large display of agricultural implements attracted much attention and the athletic events created considerable enthusiasm. A good ball game between Williamsport and Frankfort ended in a victory for the latter. The high jump was won by Joe Wornprech, of Williamsport.

A number of handsome colts formed the exhibit in the colt show, but at press time no awards had been made.

President of the Ohio Agricultural Commission A. P. Sandles, arrived at two o'clock and addressed the large throng on pertinent problems of the present day agricultural life.

Hon. C. A. Reid spoke for some little time, touching on the current issues of the day, politically and otherwise. Like Mr. Sandles, he was given a great ovation by the assembled thousands, and his witty remarks drew the lion's share of the applause.

Mr. John L. Zimmerman, Democratic candidate for the nomination of United States Senator, also spoke for some little time and was greeted with applause.

Several thousand enjoyed genuine picnic dinners under the grand old trees which form the beautiful grove. A great deal of pleasure was added to the pleasant event by the best efforts of the Washington and New Holland bands, and the musicians were given liberal applause time after time.

The picnic came to a close late in the evening, the final attraction being a balloon ascension and parachute drop calculated to thrill the thousands who packed the grounds.

The Executive Committee, to whose untiring efforts the success of the picnic is attributed, is composed of the following men: Dr. A. L. Teeters, J. T. Timmons, Wm. Mitchell and George Kirk.

MURDERER WILLIAMS IS STILL AT LARGE

John Williams, the tenant of the J. H. Allen farm in Clinton county, who Sunday afternoon shot and killed John Spradlin, is still at large, with little hope of capturing him, as it is believed the man has returned to his former home in the mountains of Kentucky.

When last seen the man was on a motorcycle with another man, and was headed southward, apparently bent on making his escape into Kentucky before the officers could overhaul him. He had some $200 with him when he left the scene of the tragedy.

The crime is said to have been committed without apparent cause, the two men having been good friends until a few minutes before the trouble, when they quarreled over money matters, and Williams shot the man in the back as he was going into his cabin.

When the Sheriff and deputy reached the scene from this city, where they had come to witness the Washington-Wilmington ball game, they took up the trail and followed it for some distance, but could not locate their man.

Sheriff Ben South is still after the man, and will probably go into the hills of Kentucky after him.

ELIAS MARION FALLS AND FRACTURES HIP

Elias Marion, of Paint street, janitor and general employee of the local public schools, is confined to a room in the Fayette Hospital, suffering from a bad fracture of the left hip, sustained in a fall in the East End school building shortly before noon Thursday.

Mr. Marion, in company with others, was at work decorating the interior of the building when he slipped and fell some eight feet, alighting on the hard floor beneath, with the result that the left hip was fractured and he was painfully bruised about the left arm and side.

He was taken to the Fayette Hospital and his physician, Dr. Decatur, assisted by Dr. Roy Brown, dressed the injuries.

He is entitled to compensation under the State Liability act, it is claimed.

His injuries will confine him to his bed for weeks. He is 57 years of age.

Mr. Joseph Kerrigan, of Sidney, was a business visitor here Thursday.

Choral Club will have an ice cream and cake social tonight at east side of Airdome.

OIL WELL CASE DECIDED WEDNESDAY

In the injunction case of Wilbur Harper against the Herrod Creek Oil & Gas Company, the Common Pleas Court at Chillicothe decided in favor of the plaintiff.

The case has been pending a year, and the plaintiff claimed that the defendant had leased his land for drilling for oil, and that the defendants had failed to pay royalty on same, and asked that the lease be annulled.

The case grew out of efforts to reopen the oil well of the Herrod Creek Company, at Harpers' Station, it being believed that oil in paying quantities could be taken from the well, which showed a production of several barrels daily before it was shot, and better indications after it was shot.

A number of local men are interested in the Herrod Creek Company and the company was organized in this city.

KIRBY PARTS WITH HANDSOME SHINER

The attachment suit of Ben R. Dolson against D. Kirby Lerch, to recover $50 attorney fee, in which Mr. Lerch's $3,500 worth of diamonds were attached in the hands of Mayor Rowlee, was settled Tuesday evening without trial, the transaction taking place in the squire's office.

The settlement of the case involved the sale of one of his diamond studs to Mr. E. May for a consideration of $200 and out of this fund Mr.

Lerch paid Attorney Dolson and all other obligations, including court costs.

Mr. Lerch was represented by Attorney E. C. Rutter in the transaction and Mr. May by Attorney L. G. Silbaugh. The suit was dismissed and Mayor Rowlee turned the $3,500 worth of diamonds over to Mr. Lerch who with Mrs. Lerch spent the night in the city.—Lancaster Eagle.

LOW AWNINGS ARE CAUSE OF COMPLAINT

Complaint has been made to Mayor Coffey of numerous awnings in the business part of the city, which hang so low over the sidewalk that a man of good height is forced either to stoop or run the risk of the awnings knocking the hat from his head.

Women also are compelled to stoop to pass under some of the awnings.

Mayor Coffey has taken the matter under consideration, and will probably order the raising of awnings which interfere with pedestrians on the sidewalks.

Old nail holes and cracks in wood can be filled successfully with a paste made of sawdust and glue.

In Social Circles

Of more than ordinary pleasure in that it gave opportunity for the renewal of acquaintance with former friends, was an informal affair given by Mr. Taylor Veal and daughter Miss Vera, Wednesday evening, in compliment to their guests, Mrs. John Dietz, daughters, Misses Katherine and Lillie, and son Clarence, who are on a motoring trip from their home in Muskogee, Oklahoma.

About forty neighbors and friends of the days of the Dietz' former residence in this city, responded to the invitations and the evening was one of spontaneous sociability.

Miss Katherine Dietz was induced to play two violin numbers with piano accompaniment by Miss Lillie which were much appreciated and recalled the beautiful numbers of the Misses Dietz which had been frequently enjoyed when they were engaged in concert work in this city.

Sweet peas and snapdragons used effectively throughout the rooms lent attractiveness and a dainty summer collation was served.

Assisting in entertaining were Mesdames Wm. Bishop, Glen Rodgers, Will Sprenger and Miss Francis Bishop.

Miss Louise Bradford of Champaign, Ill., was an out of town guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Haines and daughter, Miss Ivah, entertained with a very beautiful six o'clock dinner Wednesday night at their home on the Creek road.

The dinner was made doubly enjoyable by being served on the large verandah, overlooking the lovely grounds, with their radiant summer bloom. An immense Jardiniere of golden eyed daisies, and asparagus, and wild clematis adorned the verandah, and pink and white carnations were used in the rooms.

The guests enjoying an elaborate course menu were Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Craig, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Craig and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cockerill, of Greenfield.

The suburban home of Miss Frances Maddox presented a merry scene Wednesday evening, when the members of Mr. C. W. Roller's Sunday school class of the Christian church with their husbands and a number of invited guests enjoyed a picnic feast.

The grounds were decorated with Japanese lanterns and abloom with flowers.

Everybody had a royal good time, with the picnic supper the feature of the occasion.

CLAIMS HE WILL SUE MARION FARMER

The driver in charge of the Pilot touring car, which went into the ditch immediately east of Compton Creek bridge on the New Holland pike, has declared his intention of bringing suit against a Marion township farmer whom he alleges is responsible for his car taking the ditch.

The man claims that the farmer, in a two-horse wagon, held the road. The road at the point where the mishap occurred is barely wide enough to permit the passage of two rigs, and the machine would necessarily be compelled to greatly reduce speed or run the risk of going into the ditch.

The farmer assisted the man in pulling the car from the ditch.

NEGLECT OF DUTY CHARGED IN SUIT

In a suit for divorce, filed in the common pleas court Thursday morning, Nell Pursell charges L. H. Pursell with gross neglect of duty covering a period of three years. Custody of their child is asked by the plaintiff, as well as other relief. Post & Reid represent the plaintiff.

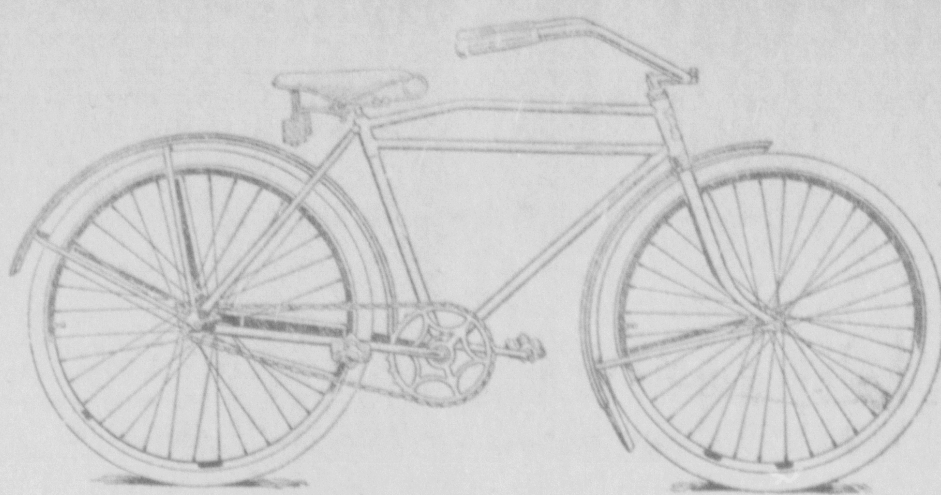

The couple were married in Leesburg, January 4, 1905.

WHAT A BIG EUROPEAN WAR MEANS IN FAYETTE COUNTY

Higher Cost of Living Predicted Should Hungarian-Servian War Develop Into Continental Struggle—Demand for Food Stuffs From America Would be Heavy—Wild Fluctuations in Wheat Market Changes Dealers' Methods in Handling Flour.

In a local restaurant Thursday morning a local man was reading, between sips and bites, the blackened, ominous front page of a newspaper, perilously and obliquely balanced on the counter in front of him between a glass of water and a bottle of sauce. Finishing, he folded the paper, yawned and observed contentedly: "Gee, I'm glad I live on

Mrs. Frank C. Parrett left Thursday for Columbus to be the guest of her mother.

The Sugar Grove W. C. T. U. was very pleasantly entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Manuel, north of town.

Mrs. E. F. Goodwin, sister Mrs. Lionel Maynard Brown of New York were guests Wednesday of Mrs. Mark Mechlin in Columbus.

Mr. Charles Allen attended the fair at Jamestown Thursday.

Mr. Harvey Harrop and family left Wednesday for a visit with relatives in Centerburg and Zanesville.

Misses Anna Kaetzel and Allie Wendel, who have been guests of J. W. Duffee and family returned Wednesday to their home in Columbus.

Mrs. Ira Day of near Austin, is at the Fayette Hospital and will undergo a serious operation this evening at the hands of Dr. J. F. Baldwin of Columbus. Mrs. Day has been in ill health for the past two years, following serious injuries received in a runaway accident when a horse she was driving became frightened at an automobile, ran away and overturned the closed rig in which she was riding. She was severely bruised and shaken and received several deep cuts.

Mrs. Katherine Jane McDaniel and little daughters Ida and Brilliant and Mr. Alvah Dare of Huntington, W. Va., are visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Dunfee in Millwood.

this side of the pond. I am heartily sorry for the poor people in Europe in the event of war over there and it looks very much as if that thing were going to happen." He lit a big fat cigar and concluded: "We're lucky."

A half block up the street a groceryman sat at a high desk, his legs twined tightly about a high stool. The fingers of one hand were buried in a death like clutch on his forelock while the others held a pencil the end of which he chewed ravenously while he computed softly to himself: "This European war," he said. "I hate to think what's going to happen if those ducks across the pond get into it."

And here is the solution. Not in years has the wheat market been so wild. Not in decades has its prospect been so uncertain. Closing at 91 cents Wednesday Chicago wheat advanced seven more cents with the opening of the exchange Thursday morning. Its future fluctuations are impossible to predict. Corn was noted to have jumped three cents Thursday morning.

The particular grocer who was so disturbed concerning the war situation was worried about the wheat market. He knew he must buy flour but he didn't know how much to buy. The speculation was far greater than he had ever been called upon to meet. He finally decided to buy the least possible amount he could get along with. And what this grocer, a man of extensive experience, sees fit to do, the majority of others will.

The Dahl-Millikan Grocery Company, Washington's large wholesale house, is doing something it hasn't done in years. It is disposing of its flour to buyers subject to the rise or decline of the market.

Formerly, even in times when the wheat market was considered most unsafe, this company sold its flour at a certain price and the purchasers paid one price whether the market rose or fell. What this concern is doing, concerns all over the country are doing and its effect may be surmised.

"We're in for some tall figuring if there's going to be a war," said a local groceryman Thursday. "I think the wheat market will be in fragments in another week or two."

But the effect will not be confined alone to wheat, should the war become continental, as present conditions indicate. Virtually all of Europe will, for the time being, cease to become a producing land, but will be almost entirely a consuming one, and food stuffs in general will be in demand, and top prices prevail for American grain, meats and other staples. A boost in the high cost of living is imminent if the war becomes general.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. will meet Friday at two o'clock with Mrs. Sharp-Davies on Columbus avenue. Subject for the meeting "Sufrage." Mrs. Frank Kennedy, leader. Mrs. Alice Taggart, county president will be present. Everyone interested in equal sufrage is invited.

SECRETARY.

DEMONSTRATION MARKS FILING OF PETITIONS

120,000 Names on Petitions to Initiate Woman Suffrage Amendment, Filed With Secretary Graves This Afternoon—Two Women From Each County Carried Their Petitions in Enthusiastic Suffragette Parade.

By Associated Press.

Columbus, O., July 30.—Two women from each of the 88 counties in Ohio carrying between them a yellow and white basket containing petitions to initiate a woman suffrage amendment to the state constitution, composed the parade which marched once around the state capital late this afternoon, and then presented the petitions to Secretary of State Graves on the state house steps for official filing.

About 120,000 signatures, or 16,000 more than necessary, were contained on all the petitions. If Secretary Graves accepts them as valid, the question of woman suffrage will be submitted to each voter at the November election.

Although suffrage workers had not intended the parade today to reach the proportions of a demonstration, suffragists from Columbus and central Ohio turned out in large quantities to line the streets and attend the rally on the state house steps after the presentation. Most wore white dresses trimmed in yellow, and each carried a yellow rose as an emblem of suffrage for women. Three hundred women and a man from each county to carry the county banner composed the parade. Chimes of Trinity church, on the capital square, played during the march through streets bounding the capitol.

The extreme cool weather of the past 48 hours has been welcomed by local citizens, who have been suffering with the intense heat of the summer, and the expression: "what a great night to sleep," has been a common one among those who have been sweltering under midnight heat that was unbearable.

Wednesday morning the mercury hung around 55 degrees, at 5:00 a. m. and jumped up to 82 degrees Wednesday afternoon. However, it again started on its downward course and by midnight had reached 60 degrees, and at 5:00 Thursday morning had touched 54 degrees.

GERMANS DESIRE WAR, SAY FRENCH

Optimism Not Noticeable In Official Circles In Paris.

GENERAL UPHEAVAL EXPECTED

France Reported to Have Completed an Unofficial Mobilization of Her Forces—War Munitions and Supplies Being Rushed to the Necessary Points—Nation Prepared to Resist a Sudden Attack.

Paris, July 30.—Popular sentiment in regard to a general war is more optimistic. It is very questionable, however, if there are good grounds for the improved feeling, which is not noticeable in governmental circles. The Temps too does not share in this feeling. It says that it is certain now that hereafter Germany will make no effort to restrain her ally, and as Berlin must be aware of possible consequences of Austria's declaration of war, it is evident that the German government does not fear war, but desires it. Wilhelmstrasse, says the Temps, appears to believe that the hour has come for that preventive of war which was advocated by the Cologne Gazette a few months ago. This was that there are many ways of crushing Serbia without occupying her territory. Austria, it was argued, might demand that the Serbian army be reduced to almost nothing or she might extort a crushing war indemnity from Serbia.

The Figaro says it learns from unquestionable authority that the Russian minister of war informed Count

Von Purnale, the German ambassador at St. Petersburg, on Friday of the intended mobilization along the Austrian frontier, adding that more army corps would mobilize along the German frontier, not as a menace, but as a frank measure of testifying to Russia's firm intentions. France, the Figaro says, calculates that such a step will make it necessary for Germany to place six of her twenty-three army corps along the Russian frontier, leaving seventeen to France's nineteen army corps in their present stations.

Although the reservists have not been called out, France has completed an unofficial mobilization of her forces, although no details are allowed to be made public. In the last three days fifty-seven trains have been rushed with war munitions and supplies to the necessary points. The Eastern railroad has 300 locomotives always under steam ready for use of the military. The preparations are so complete that France is confident that she will be able to resist a sudden attack. She would also be able to take the initiative and invade Germany via Belgium. This would mean the abandonment of the set plan which involves retreating from Nancy, which is an unprotected town.

AUSTRIA DONE WITH RUSSIA

St. Petersburg, July 30.—The negotiations between Austria and Russia have ended, but although the situation is regarded with increasing gravity, hope of restricting the war to Austria and Serbia has not been abandoned entirely.

Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria has sent an important letter to the czar which may have a very important influence towards peace.

The interchange of views of the ambassadors of the triple alliance and triple entente with M. Sazonoff, the Russian foreign minister, continues. Hope for peace is now founded solely on what France and Germany may be able to accomplish. Austria's alleged refusal to continue direct negotiations with Russia, as the latter is reported to have desired, is interpreted in some quarters to mean that Austria has put herself in the hands of her allies, so far as her relations with Russia are concerned.

Russia, in the meantime, will not depart from the attitude she has already announced towards Serbia.

There is an absence among the officials of all signs of hurry and anxiety, thereby giving the impression of conscious strength and preparedness to accept with equanimity whatever may be the developments.

Should Emperor Nicholas become generalissimo of the forces, as it is understood he will, an immense wave of enthusiasm will sweep over Russia. The political parties have sunk their differences. The general attitude is not jingoistic, but one of resolute confidence in the justice of the country's cause and readiness to make all sacrifices.

A proposal attributed to Austria, to discuss terms when Belgrade has been occupied, is regarded as impossible. It is pointed out that before opening of hostilities Russia proposed to Austria a direct exchange of views, which Austria rejected.

French troops are being concentrated gradually toward the German frontier, and preparations for war, although conducted quietly, nevertheless are going steadily forward.

President Poincaré returned to Paris from his Russian visit. Thousands of young men, members of the League of Patriots, met the president at the railroad station and cheered him.

A military guard has been stationed at the great Corbell flour mills, near Paris, which would be taken over by the French army if there should be war.

CALLS OUT RESERVES

St. Petersburg, July 30.—An imperial ukase issued by the emperor calls to the colors an immense number of reservists.

GERMANS PICKET RUSSIAN FRONTIER

Berlin, July 30.—Several German regiments have moved toward the Russian frontier as a precautionary measure. Official advice received here indicate military activity on the Russian side of the border, although the German military authorities are informed that no mobilization order has been issued by the Russian war office.

Anti-war demonstrations conducted by Serbs at Stuttgart resulted in such serious rioting that police were unable to cope with the situation and troops were called out. The manifestants invaded the district in which the foreign legations are situated and stoned the buildings.

1,000 KILLED IN CONFLICT

Vienna, July 30.—There is an unconfirmed report that the Serbians were defeated in a battle at Foca, on the Bosnian frontier. Two Serbian divisions, says the report, attacked the Austrian forces. After a severe battle the Serbians were defeated with a loss of 800 killed. Many prisoners were taken. The Austrian loss was 200 killed.

PANAMA CANAL OPENS AUG. 15

Cristobal, July 30.—A test trip will be made through the canal on Aug. 2, and the great waterway will be opened to navigation on Aug. 15. The thirty foot draught ship Ancon will make the first complete trip. Secretary of War Garrison has been invited to be present.

Governor Goethals of the canal zone says that the canal will be opened to the traffic of the world on Aug. 15. No changes will be made in the organization of the staff. The operation and construction work on the canal will proceed at the same time.

HUERTA WILL LIVE IN SPAIN

Kingston, Jamaica, July 30.—General Huerta, ex-provisional president of Mexico, chartered the United Fruit company's steamship Patia, of 3,200 tons, to take himself and family and the other members of the party which accompanied him here from Puerto Mexico to Santander, Spain. The Patia will sail from here Sunday morning. General Huerta has deposited $200,000 in a bank at this place.

PRESIDENT REASSURES

Will Not Oppose Loyal Democrats Seeking Re-election.

Washington, July 30.—President Wilson has decided not to interpose any obstacles to the renomination and re-election of Democratic members of congress who have supported the policies of the party, no matter what their local and state affiliations may be.

This policy, which is to be applied generally during the coming campaign, was made known by the president during his conference with Representative Fitzgerald and other Democratic members of the house from New York city, who called at the White House to complain that some of the federal appointees in their state have been claiming they had the support of the administration in fighting them.

The president made it clear that while his attitude did not necessarily mean that he would accept the endorsements of particular members of congress for federal positions, the men whom he does appoint will not be allowed to fight loyal Democrats with the influence of the administration.

The members of the delegation left the White House somewhat disappointed because they had not been promised any appointments, but pleased over Mr. Wilson's attitude regarding their candidacies for re-election.

Found a New Kind of Whale.

A new kind of whalebone whale has recently been discovered in the south Atlantic. It is nearly as large as the finback, the more familiar whale of those waters. But instead of subsisting on minute crustaceans it feeds on small schooling fishes, such as young herring and mackerel. The frayed ends of its baleen, or whalebone, are not curled into a woolly fringe, like those of the finback, which needs a fringe in order to entrap its minute food, but are straight and comblike. The new species has quite as much commercial value as its better known relative.

Calling the Roll in Congress.

There are 435 members in the national house of representatives. It takes forty-five minutes to call the roll. In order to avoid the tedious delay, an electric voting device will probably be installed before the next session begins in December. It is estimated that it will cost $20,000 to establish the system.

WILSON DEFENDS ANTI-TRUST BILLS

Business Men Government Is Not Running Amuck.

WEEKS TO END ERA OF DISTRUST

Into Detailed Discussion of His Program and Promises to Lay His Callers' Suggestions Before the Proper Congressional Committees. Uncertainty Halts Prosperity, Says Detroit Manufacturer.

Washington, July 30. — Defending the administration's anti-trust program, President Wilson told a large delegation of business men, representing large wholesale organizations, that he is seeking to end an era of "suspicion and recrimination by putting into law what the moral judgment of the community has said ought to be done." He assured them that the government is not "running amuck."

The wholesalers laid before the president a prepared argument against several features of the Clayton anti-trust bill and the trade commission bill, but said they approved of the general purposes of the proposed legislation. Mr. Wilson entered into a detailed discussion of the bills and promised to lay his callers' suggestions before the proper committees of the senate.

The president also talked of business conditions and the anti-trust bills with Hugh Chalmers, a Detroit manufacturer, who agreed with the president's views and said that prosperity would come as soon as the present uncertainty was relieved. Business has been bad for the last few months, he said, but he looked for great improvement as soon as the trust bills are out of the way and the interstate commerce commission gives its decision on the freight rate increases.

In speaking to the wholesalers, the president said: "We have had money conditions, banking conditions, economic conditions, of which the country said 'they are wrong.' Now we have undertaken to give a remedy, and until that was done business could not settle down to anything, because the agitation was sure to come again. I just want to leave, that that thought with you, that we are not running amuck; we are trying to close this era of suspicion and recrimination by putting in the law what the moral judgment of the community has said ought to be there. And I honestly believe that when it is done—and I hope it will not be more than six weeks now when it is done—we can all take off our coats and get to work and look each other in the face and say, 'This is a nation of honest men and we are going to do business as such.' Don't you think that is a reasonable view to take of the present situation?"

MARRIAGE SEEMS TO AGREE WITH JIMMY VIOX, PIRATE SHORTSTOP

When Connie Mack lost the pennant in 1912 he blamed it on the fact that so many of his players had married recently and were thinking more about their spouses than baseball. This is not the case of Jimmy Viox, however, for the Pirates' scrappy little infielder took a trip upon the sea of matrimony not long ago, and since that time no one has been able to stop him. He is the batting and fielding sensation of the team at present and shows no signs of letting up.

SAWING GRANITE ROCKS.

Steel Wires and Sand and Water Are the Apparatus Used.

Stone is still sawed by hand, even in great cities, where the latest appliances of the mechanical art are to be found. Yet the mechanical sawing of rock is at least sixteen centuries old and in recent years has reached a stage of perfection.

The idea of using a metal cord and a mixture of sand and water for sawing stone was patented by Eugene Chevallier in France in 1854. His apparatus, with scarcely any change, was used not long ago in cutting a trench through the Pont Neuf, in Paris.

The principle upon which the mechanical stone saw works is described by Victor Raynaud in La Science et la Vie as follows:

An endless rope composed of three steel wires twisted together is set in movement and draws with it a grinding granular substance, pressing this hard upon the stone that is to be sawed.

It is now a recognized fact that the best grades of shoe repairing can only be done through the means of machinery. The old time cobbler filled a bill and he was the pioneer in the shoe repairing business. The old time cobbler was all right in his day, but his day is past, and he is now in the way. Cobblers were never shoemakers, that is if we use the term shoemaker in these days. From a professional point of view cobblers are cobblers, and nothing else.

Duffee has the modern machinery and knows how to finish the shoes after the machines. Men's sewed soles and heels $1.00; ladies sewed soles and heels 75c; rubber heels 35c. AUSTRIANS ADVANCE---BATTLE ON

By Associated Press.

Nish, Serbia, July 30.—The invading Austrian troops advanced today some twenty miles to the southward of Belgrade and an artillery duel was in progress this morning.

MAINTAIN EFFORTS TO PREVENT GENERAL WAR

By Associated Press.

Berlin, July 30.—At the German War Office it was stated today that efforts toward the maintenance of peace were still in progress and that Germany had not yet ordered the mobilization of her forces.

Instructions were sent today by the German War Department, however, to all officers and soldiers of the reserve to be ready to join the colors. Representative officials at the Foreign Office declared the situation had grown worse today instead of better. They pointed out that the mobilization of the Russian army could mean only that Russia would support Serbia.

It was added that France also was known to be making secret military preparations.

FRENCH HOARDING MONEY---DENY MOBILIZATION

By Associated Press.

Paris, July 30.—Every military preparation short of mobilization has now been made in France. The principal railway stations and all the signal boxes and switches are today guarded by troops. Wild rumors were in circulation today that President Poincaré had decided to call up 800,000 of the French army reserves. Official denial of this was made. Crowds outside the savings banks today were three times as numerous as yesterday. Private hoarding has almost removed minted coin from circulation.

MARTIAL LAW AT BOLDERA---MINES PLANTED

By Associated Press.

Riga, Russia, July 30.—Martial law was proclaimed today over Boldera and the mouth of the Drina River and its vicinity. Steamers have to obtain special permission to pass in and out. The field of submarine mines outside the entrance to the harbor is to be completed tonight.

BIG DROP IN COTTON

By Associated Press.

New Orleans, July 30.—As a result of pessimistic cablegrams today from large market centers of Europe, and vague rumors to the effect that big English concerns were cabling this side not to risk further shipments of various commodities, cotton declined two dollars and a half a bale during the late afternoon.

HEAVY SALES IN NEW YORK

By Associated Press.

New York, July 30.—Another flood of liquidation swept over today's stock market. Opening prices were only moderately lower in comparison with London, but before the end of the first hour a huge selling movement was under way which lasted until the late afternoon.

ITALY'S KING

First Ruler to Accept Invitation to Peace Conference.

noon. Stocks recovered one to three points about the last hour, but the undertone lost none of its weakness.

BRITISH EXPECT GERMAN ATTACK

Hankow, China, July 30.—Two British gunboats of the British-China squadron were deserted by order of the Admiral today. It is understood that the British Admiralty is also dismantling all the British gunboats in Chinese waters, sending their crews to Hong Kong and Wei Hei Wei in order to defend these important possessions against a possible German attack.

PRESIDENT MAY SPEAK IN OHIO

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 30.—President Wilson was today asked to include Ohio in any speaking tour he makes during the fall campaign. He told Representative Gordon he had made no definite plans but if he went West he would try to stop in Ohio.

ASK CARRANZA TO CEASE WAR

Washington, July 30.—Efforts were made today by the United States to influence General Carranza to bring an immediate armistice in Mexico. This action followed an appeal from Provisional President Carranza to the effect that further fighting not only was "unnecessary" but "inhuman" in view of the certain success of the peace negotiations.

BIKE RIDER ON 500 MILE TOUR

Sergeant F. J. Smith, of Co. B, 5th Regiment Ohio Infantry of Elyria who is making a bicycle tour reached this city at three o'clock Thursday afternoon, stopping a few minutes before starting onward toward Wilmington, where he will spend the night.

Wednesday night he spent in Lancaster. He left Elyria Tuesday morning, making 100 miles the first day and 77 miles Wednesday. Thursday he expected to complete 71 miles.

In front of the Herald office he had completed 226.8 miles of his 500 mile journey.

LOCAL MEN WILL SELL ZANESVILLE BRICK STOCK

George H. Hitchcock and W. R. Dalbey attended the banquet at Zanesville, Ohio, Thursday when four big companies were merged into one company. They were the T. B. Townsend Brick Company, the Northern Coal Company, the Monitor Coal Company and the L. K. Brown Sand Company. It is known as the Burton-Townsend Brick and Fuel Company.

There were at the banquet leading citizens of Zanesville, the mayor, city councilmen, bankers and county commissioners, in addition to forty representatives of the R. L. Dollings Company, the well known bonding house, Hamilton, Ohio, which is represented in Fayette county by Hitchcock and Dalbey. In speaking of the Zanesville banquet they said today:

"The newly merged Zanesville company owns 2300 acres of coal lands, 324 acres of shale, fire clay and molders' sand in addition to the valuable equipment of the company. It is estimated that the deposits of the company are worth $30,000,000 in addition to the land located in Zanesville city which will later be leveled and sold at high prices for building purposes, and the capital stock of the merged company is only $2,000,000.

"It is claimed that the tests show that for paving purposes the Burton-Townsend brick is unsurpassed, being of superior quality, standing the severest tests of hard and long usage. As the company has such immense deposits of shale and coal it can manufacture its brick at minimum cost. The immense shale banks where the brick yards are located are right in the city of Zanesville, with paved streets on two sides of the property.

"The Burton-Townsend Company has control of the most valuable and extensive shale deposits of that section, and as millions upon millions are now to be spent by the National government and the state of Ohio and other states for brick road paving.

"Prospectuses setting forth detailed information, accurate illustrations etc., of the Burton-Townsend proposition may be had upon application to Hitchcock and Dalbey in the Dennis block, Washington C. H.

"The R. L. Dollings Company who have the exclusive sale of the Burton-Townsend Brick Co. stock, is a company which has passed the scrutiny of the Ohio State Banking Department. They deal in municipal bonds and high-class industrial securities, and they have the reputation of being RIGHT with the people who have been doing business with them in the past."

DAVIS TO APPEAR SMITH IS RELEASED

Reynold Davis, wanted for disorderly conduct, has made arrangements to appear before Mayor Coffey and face the charge of disorderly conduct. He resides on Blackstone avenue.

Earl Smith, who was involved in the trouble with Davis, entered a plea of guilty, drew $5 and the costs, paid part and arranged to pay the remainder without delay.

PAUL IS RELEASED PENDING INVESTIGATION

Elmer Paul, the youth who was charged with the theft of the Wilson chickens Sunday night, has been released, pending further investigation.

The young man was charged with the offense after several persons who had seen the alleged thief, and said that Paul greatly resembled the youth if he was not the right party.

HERRICK TO RETURN

By Associated Press.

Paris, July 30.—Myron T. Herrick the American Ambassador, will present his letter of recall to President Poincaré on Monday.

CLARKE SWORN IN

By Associated Press.

Cleveland, July 30.—John H. Clarke was sworn in as Federal District Judge today.

Sleeplessness. A favorite dictum of the physiologists, emphasized in their latest works, relates to the dangers of sleeplessness. "Sleep is more important to life than nutrition, and insomnia kills sooner than starvation," to quote the exact words of one. This has been a kind of tradition in medicine and is reiterated again and again in these books without any real evidence, so far as I know, to support it. Taught to every medical man of older generations and to every medical fledgling of today, it finds its way to general public acceptance, begetting in the lay mind terrors of insanity and death which haunt every unfortunate victim of insomnia. The fear of not sleeping is one of the commonest causes of insomnia. Yet I do not know of any medical evidence anywhere of disastrous results from insomnia and have myself never seen any harm arise from sleeplessness apart from the harm done by the fears and worries associated with the condition.—Atlantic

GROCERIES -- QUEENSWARE

We received this morning from J. B. Rife, of Good Hope, 300 Pounds of New White Clover Honey

We always take all of Mr. Rife's Honey, as the quality is exceptionally fine.

25c Lb.

Honey will be scarce and high this year, owing to the drouth early in the season.

Orville Brown and Russell Moore were ditched when the small turtle in a ditch at the side of the road, a short distance east of town. A line of cars was passing and a number of Wilmington people rushed to their assistance, but found the men were not badly hurt, though the car was wrecked. How the passengers in the ill-fated machine escaped serious injury is a miracle. Wilmington Journal.

WHEAT FLURRY HAS LITTLE EFFECT HERE

Regardless of the sensational jumps made in the price of November and December wheat, as a result of the European war scare, the price in this city and other similar points remains practically unchanged, and the local elevators are now paying 77 cents per bushel.

All over the country the buyers and sellers are remaining quiet while the wild speculation is on in the Chicago wheat pit.

BOY INJURED

Russell Dern, 12, was slightly injured and his bicycle damaged, Wednesday evening when a rig struck him as he was turning from Fayette street into Court.

The driver of the rig purchased repairs for the lad's wheel.
